LIMA, OHIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1921

PRICE THREE CENTS

Information And Recommendations For Lima Voters

LIMA voters will be handed six ballots when they enter the polls Tuesday. They are: 1—City commission, bearing 10 names. 2—Board of Education, bearing six names. 3—Constables and assessors. This is the only ticket with a party designation. 4—Judicial ticket (Justice of the Peace). 5—School levy. 6—Three state amendments, soldiers', sailors', marines' and nurses' bonus; poll tax and senatorial redistricting.

The polls will open at 5:30 a. m. and will close at 5:30 p. m.

Voters are urged by the board of elections to vote early as a heavy vote will clog the voting places if not well distributed throughout the day.

The following names will appear on the city commission ticket: John A. Harley, Minor C. Crossley, H. L. Breckenridge, Harold Cunningham, J. J. Rankin, Ellis Jones, Earl C. Rohn, B. H. Simpson, Edwin Blank and A. L. Wilker.

The following names will appear on the board of education ticket: Homer H. Hughes and Ralph Austin, Republicans; Mrs. Helen Kerr Workman and Mrs. Mary F. Kirk, independents, and E. B. Taylor and Rodney Stansbury, independents.

C. A. Plock and J. J. Hover, Republicans, oppose David F. McGuire and Ferd Brockett, Democrats, for constables of Ottawa-tp.

The only contests for assessors are in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Wards where Jesse J. Mullen, C. P. Morey and J. F. Drennen, Democrats, respectively from the above wards, oppose George Copeland, J. V. Smiley and G. A. Spees, Republicans, respectively.

Neil R. Poling, Democrat, opposes W. H. Guyton, Republican, for justice of the peace of Ottawa-tp.

Lima People Will Not Make A Mistake If They--

Vote For Harley, Crossley, Breckenridge, Cunningham and Rankin for members of the new city commission to take up government of city January 1.

Vote For Hughes and Austin for members of the board of education. They are fitted for the place and would give the city a school administration in keeping with its past record.

Vote Yes on the proposition of the Soldiers', Sailors', Marines' and Nurses' bonus. This provides $10 for each month in service during the world war for those from Ohio.

Vote Yes on the proposition to extend the two-mill levy for city schools and add another levy for a period of five years in order that the schools may be kept up to their present standards.

Vote No on the proposition of a poll tax for Ohio. The amendment would give the legislature power to enact such a tax in Ohio. The amount of the per capita tax is left to the lawmakers.

Vote No on the proposition of the senatorial redistricting of the state of Ohio. This proposed amendment is being vigorously opposed as a political move to sew up the state for a single party.

ALLEGED ROBBER IS SHOT

Double Murder Is Confessed

CLEAR UP CRIME AT PORTSMOUTH

One Legged Man Admits Killing Girl and Companion

SHOT THE COUPLE TO DEATH

Fired When Bribe Was Thrown at Him, He Says

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio.—(By Associated Press.)—Behind the bars at the county jail, Ray Chamblin, 27, a one legged man, is facing the ordeal of answering for the double murder of John W. Newman, 26, married, shoe worker, and Miss Louise Doyle, 19, shoemaker and church pianist, at an empty farm house on the Scioto trail at George postoffice, seven miles from Portsmouth on the night of October 21. His signed confession, simply but graphically telling of the crime, which for ten days baffled Portsmouth and Scioto-eco authorities, is in the hands of Sheriff E. F. Rickey—the man who struck the clue that solved the murder and trailed the self-confessed slayer to his hiding place at the home of a relative in Cincinnati.

GRAND JURY CALLED

Chamblin is to be arraigned late today, charged in two separate instances with first degree murder. An extra session of the grand jury has been called to convene this afternoon to take up the murder case.

Chamblin in his confession implicates no one but himself, saying he was alone when the crime was committed and when he made his escape.

His signed confession, secured by officials after hours of grilling, follows:

SLAYER'S CONFESSION

"On the night of October 21, 1921, I left the house of Ora Foster, my uncle, after supper and intended to go to Sherman Wilson's house in Houston Hollow. I came across the river in a boat. I saw a machine standing on the road just below the entrance to the house where the bodies were found. I went up to the house and entered by the front door when some one threw a brick at me. I cut down on him three times and then shot the woman. I left the house, got in the automobile and drove thru Lucasville over the bridge and on to the west side. I left the automobile stand where it was later found. I then got another boat and pulled my boat back over to the west side and then went home. The next morning I left for Manchester and on my way over on the ferry I threw the pistol in the river."

Supplementing his first confession, Chamblin today told Sheriff Rickey he took Newman's watch and $18 from his pockets. He has been steadily clinging to the statement that he did not rob Newman or even touch the bodies of the victims after he shot them.

DETROIT DRESSES UP FOR FOCH

Marshal Arrives There After Dedication Roosevelt Hospital

DETROIT.—(By Associated Press.)—Detroit was in gala attire today in honor of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, hero of heroes.

An afternoon and evening filled with honors for the allied leader was on the schedule, following respects paid him earlier in the day at Camp Custer, near Battle Creek, and at Ann Arbor.

The marshal and his party reached the camp from Chicago early today, where he dedicated the new Roosevelt memorial hospital, an institution that will care for Michigan former service men, addressed the thousands who came to greet him and then made a brief inspection tour.

On his way to Detroit the marshal stopped at Ann Arbor and made a five minute address to University of Michigan students who assembled at the station.

Arriving in Detroit early this afternoon, Marshal Foch found a full program arranged for him. It began with the greetings at the railroad station by thousands of former soldiers, Red Cross workers, army nurses and a company of Detroiters who served under the tri-color, all clad in their service uniforms. A triumphal march thru the city's principal streets to the city hall, where Mayor James Couzens planned to extend the official greeting and a visit to Detroit automobile factories was on the program for the afternoon.

Thirty fires in Ohio during September, according to the monthly report of State Fire Marshal Dyke, were caused by lightning.

COLUMBUS.—Lightning was the big cause of fires in Ohio during September, according to the monthly report of State Fire Marshal Dyke.

Thirty fires from this source, with a total loss of $70,693, were reported. There were 270 fires in the state during the month, with a property loss of $560,870 or $70,000 more than the loss in September, 1920.

ACCUSED SLAYER OF 11 ON TRIAL

Frenchman Charged With Luring Women to Their Death

PRODUCE BONES AS EVIDENCE

Declared Strangest Case in Criminal History

(BY WEBB MILLER) VERSAILLES, France.—(United Press.)—Henri Landrau, the 20th century Don Juan, went on trial here at noon today.

Known as the "Bluebeard of Gambais Villa," Landrau was to plead to the charge of murdering 11 of the 283 women of all ages who are alleged to have become betrothed to him.

The trial, which in France far overshadows the Washington arms conference, got under way after an investigation lasting two years and a half of the strangest case in modern criminal history. Landrau, 55, with heavy features and squat figure, a shining bald pate, bushy black beard—in fact, the exact antithesis of the legendary Don Juan—will be pictured by the prosecution as having lured a veritable army of women, mostly wealthy widows, ranging in age from 20 to 60, for their fortunes.

PLAN FOR OPERATIONS Matrimonial advertisements are alleged to have been the agencies thru which he worked. He is said to have induced each of his victims to convert her wealth into cash. Meeting her in Paris, he would purchase two railway tickets to Gambais. Records will be produced to show that he always purchased only one return ticket.

Most of the women to whom the modern Don Juan is alleged to have been betrothed, disappeared. The evidence against him is circumstantial. Two houses of charred bones taken from a stove at the villa and alleged by experts to be human, will be produced in court. The prosecution also will introduce Landrau's notebook, in which he is said to have entered minute particulars regarding his various successes.

150 WITNESSES CALLED The former Madame Landrau, in an interview, declared she did not believe him guilty of the charges against him and pointed out that the stove in which the alleged human bones were found was too small to admit a woman's body.

The prosecution has produced 130 witnesses and the defense 20. The various documents to be introduced by the prosecution total more than 70,000 pages.

Today was expected to be occupied with empanelling the jury, calling the roll of the witnesses and reading the indictment of 26 charges. Tomorrow Judge Gilbert, one of the most prominent of members of the French bar, probably will examine Landrau, which is customary under French laws. This procedure will last thru Wednesday and the prosecution's witnesses will be called the following day.

A detachment of gendarmes was on hand today to maintain order among the crowds, including hundreds of women who fought for admission.

KILLED IN GAME

Neck of Toledo Football Player Is Broken

TOLEDO.—(By Associated Press) Carleton Mannaback, 17, fullback on the Glendale football team, a Toledo Federation Club, was killed instantly during a game with the West End Club here yesterday afternoon.

Mannaback tackled Fullback Roberts of the West End club and fell under him. His neck was broken and he suffered concussion of the brain.

$250,000 SMILE! JIM'S GOT IT

AGUA PRIETA, Mexico.—(By NEA Service.)—D'ja ever hear of a $250,000 smile?

Jim Joe, Chinaman merchant, prince of Agua Prieta, has one. He landed here several years ago, with just enough money to start a small store. Long before he mastered Spanish and English he learned to smile. His customers talked about that smile—and more customers resulted.

Then he opened a cafe—and smiled; then a cabaret and another store. Each time Jim started business with his habitual smile.

Today he is worth a quarter of a million, and has given thousands of dollars to charity.

STRIKE BRINGS ON LEGAL BATTLE

Cleveland Milk Supply Still Tied Up by Walkout

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press) Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald today entered into negotiations with large banking companies in an effort to have milk deliveries in wagons which make house to house deliveries of bread. The city will waive the ordinance requiring the sale of milk in bottles and it is planned to carry the milk in large cans in the wagons.

Whether the city will be able to get the milk was a question. Carl F. Kulick, secretary of the Ohio Farmers' Co-operative Milk Company, which supplies the distributors here, said the city's efforts would be almost useless. He said after the Telling-Belle Vernon Company's contracts have been filled the supply is hardly sufficient to meet the demands of independent dealers.

Mayor Fitzgerald has instructed Law Director W. B. Woods to take steps today to set aside Judge Maurice P. Berma's injunction, which was issued Saturday night. The injunction restrains the mayor from taking over the plants of the Telling-Belle Vernon Company, whose 800 milk wagon drivers are on strike.

Extension of the strike was threatened today with the announcement of an East Cleveland Milk Company that beginning today wage cuts and open shop would be effective.

UNKNOWN HERO'S BODY TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

WASHINGTON.—The body of America's unknown hero will arrive in Washington Wednesday afternoon or evening and will lie in state in the rotunda of the capital until Friday, it was announced today.

The public, and those official delegations and societies which have been given permission to place wreaths on the bier, will be admitted to the rotunda from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. Thursday, it was stated, but no one will be admitted after that hour during the solemn night preceding interment at Arlington.

CRAWFORD BAKER IN GUN BATTLE

Felled by Bullet From Sergeant Kinzer's Revolver

WOMAN FIRES AT OFFICE

John Little Nabbed; Stolen Goods Recovered

Two men are under arrest, one seriously wounded, and other members of an alleged gang wanted in connection with a half dozen recent robberies here are scattered as a result of a police cleanup made Sunday.

The two men captured are: Crawford Baker, 23, wounded, captured in a gun battle at 637 N. Jackson-st by Police Sergeant Frank Kinzer. Baker was taken to the City hospital and may recover. The bullet penetrated the left side of the body, over the heart, followed the ribs and emerged under the shoulder blade.

LITTLE CONFESES

John Little, 41, of 1014 N. Jefferson-st, arrested for concealing stolen property. He was arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson in criminal court Monday and held under $1,000 bond.

Guy Sisson, alleged to have been in Baker's house, escaped by jumping from the roof of the building to that of an adjoining house. Johnson Baker, brother of the wounded man, is also so hit by the police. Sisson is said to have gone to Toledo.

From statements made by Little, father-in-law of Guy Sisson, police believed that he four men had been concerned in a number of recent robberies.

Among the most recent are the R. E. Parrott, grocery, N. Cole-st and Latham-ave; The Pure Oil station, at Market and Central-ave, and the White Mountain creamery, in Ottawa.

GROCERY LOOT FOUND

Little was arrested at his home, 1014 N. Jefferson-st Sunday. Acting on a tip that a portion of the stock stolen at Parrott's grocery, November 3, was stored there, Chief of Police Roush searched the place. No resistance was made by Little and he made a statement implicating Sisson and the two Bakers, police say. A truck load of food and provisions was taken from his home. Little was arrested for receiving stolen goods.

A dragnet was thrown out for the trio. Chief Roush, suspecting that they might be at the ball game, led a squad of police to Murphy-st park and a search was made thru the crowd.

At 4 p. m. Sergeant Frank Kinzer, desk officer, learned that Sisson and Crawford Baker were at 637 N. Jackson-st.

He went to the house alone. When he knocked on the door he could hear persons moving inside. The occupants made for the roof and a man believed to be Sisson, escaped by jumping to the roof of an adjoining house.

Baker crawled down off the roof and was overpowered by Kinzer. Keeler Clark, 321 N. Union-st, a truck driver, who was passing, was deputized by the policeman to hold Baker.

Kinzer then resumed his attempt to get the house, going around to the rear. The door was bolted and Baker told the officer that he would have his wife unlock it.

He called to her and the woman complied. The three men entered the kitchen. Mrs. Baker, armed with a revolver, met them. Baker instantly made a break for freedom.

During the struggle, Mrs. Baker moved about constantly, seeking to get a shot at the officer, Kinzer says. In order to protect himself he backed toward the door with his prisoner.

WOMAN WAS ARMED "I'll kill you, I'll kill you," the woman kept repeating, Kinzer states.

Baker and Kinzer struggled for a while in the yard, with Clark held at bay by the woman, revolver in hand. He was unarmed and unable to assist.

Finally Baker ran to the house. As he raced inside, his wife fired at Kinzer. The ball whizzed past the officer's ear.

As the door was slammed to, Kinzer shot twice. The bullets passed thru the door and one of them was stopped by Baker, who was crouched down, attempting to get a shot at the policeman. The bullet, fired from a .45 calibre Colt, put Baker out of action.

Shortly afterward an automobile filled with officers, arrived. Chief Roush, leading the squad, forced an entrance.

Baker was found lying in the front room, bleeding profusely from his wound. His wife was attempting to staunch the crimson flow. He was taken to City hospital.

Searching the house, another cache of stolen groceries was found. The goods were removed to the police station Monday. Among the loot was a case of butter, believed to be part of the amount stolen at Ottawa recently. Two revolvers were found by police.

WARRANT FOR MRS. BAKER

A warrant for Mrs. Baker, charging her with shooting with intent to kill, was issued by Judge Jackson Monday.

LEGION PREDICTS BONUS VICTORY

Interest Mainly Centered on This Issue in Vote Tomorrow

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press) — With only three state issues at stake, main interest in tomorrow's elections in Ohio appeared to center on the fate of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for a bond issue of $25,000,000, out of which the state would pay a bonus to Ohio veterans of the world war.

The proposed constitutional amendments providing for a poll tax and for senatorial redistricting of the state appeared to be attracting but slight attention. In fact, local municipal elections appeared to be creating much more of a stir thruout the state than either of these two measures. All three of the proposed state constitutional amendments were initiated by the last general assembly.

State officials of the American Legion today declared they had every reason to believe that the bonus amendment would carry by a large vote, despite the light general registration. They said they based their predictions on reports from all parts of the state, where local legion posts have put on an intensified campaign. They declared that their slogan of "keep faith with him" had won many votes.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT CANTON, O.—Rocco Sabriola, garage employee, died today of injuries received when struck on the head by a ring from an automobile rim. The ring flew off while Sabriola was pumping up a tire, striking him with such force that his skull was fractured.

BILLIONS TURNED TO AID OF GERMAN GOVERNMENT

BERLIN.—The league of German industrialists has voted to come to the financial aid of the government by placing at its disposal the foreign credits of the league's members, estimated to yield 1,000,000 marks. A resolution to this effect was adopted after seven hours of stormy debate which was participated in by Hugo Stinnes, the financier, and Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, director of the Krupp Works.

JAMES GREGORY DEAD PORT CLINTON.—James Gregory, prominent insurance and business man, died at his home near here today of heart disease. Mr. Gregory has been active in the civic affairs of Port Clinton for many years.

POLL TAX FOUGHT

Simply Adds Another Burden, Says L. J. Taber

COLUMBUS.—(By United Press) —Defeat of the poll tax amendment to the state constitution, which comes before Ohio voters tomorrow, was being urged today by L. J. Taber, state director of agriculture.

"The poll tax will simply add another burden to those now on taxpayers," he said. "It offers no permanent solution of our taxing problem. The farmers should vote against it."

"However, every farmer should vote in favor of adjusted compensation for Ohio soldiers. We should esteem it a privilege to pay the small amount of extra taxes this amendment calls for."

These Men Stood By You—Pay Your Debt

WHEN thousands of Ohio boys marched away to do battle with a common foe threatening all civilization, they made sacrifices which cannot be repaid.

They offered their lives that our fair nation might continue to enjoy the freedom which has made it the greatest on the face of the globe.

They gave months and years in the prime of their lives to shoulder weapons at $30 a month while Labor and Capital at home were gathering in money at an unprecedented rate.

Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Nurses are not asking charity. They did their duty well and without a murmur. Now the people of Ohio have an opportunity to show in a small way their appreciation of their services.

The debt may be liquidated to some degree tomorrow by voting for the bonus in Ohio. It provides for $10 for each month served by Ohio boys in various branches and for nurses.

It is a small matter to you, but will mean much to them. Vote for it.

4 WOMEN RECEIVE MONEY DEMANDS

Threat of Death if Order is Not Complied With

POLICE WATCH; NO RESULTS

Identity of Mystery Woman is Not Revealed

Demands for money made by a mysterious woman over the telephone, Saturday night increased to four Monday when two more instances of attempted extortion were brought to the attention of the police.

Chief O. J. Roush hopes to solve the identity of the person demanding the money.

Up to noon Monday, demands for money on threat of death had been made upon three women, in addition to Mrs. Clara Clark.

FOUR ARE THREATENED.

They are:
Mrs. Anna Hoover, 703 W. High-st.

Mrs. Jennie Clark, 517 Linden-st.

Mrs. W. R. Clapper, 615 N. Jamison-ave.

The names of three of the women are listed on the same page in the telephone directory.

Saturday about the same hour that Mrs. Clara Clark received a threatening call, an unidentified woman called Mrs. Clapper and told her she valued her life to leave money at the City Bank corner at midnight.

Mrs. Anna Hoover said she was summoned to the telephone at 8 p. m. Saturday. Someone on the line, believed to be a woman, demanded that she leave $150 on her front porch.

Parties would come and get the money, the woman on the line said. Threats of violence or death were made, if the money was not placed at the designated spot. Mrs. Hoover was very much alarmed and called the police.

About 4 p. m. Saturday someone called up Mrs. Jennie Clark, 517 Linden-st., and told her she would be killed if $500 was not placed on the veranda of her home before midnight.

THOUGHT IT HOAX.
Mrs. Clark paid attention to the matter, considering it a hoax, until Sunday she read of the demand made on Mrs. Clara Clark. She then decided to notify the police.

The person making the demand in all four cases was a woman. Mrs. Jennie Clark is of the opinion that it might have been a boy who was talking.

The demand made on Mrs. Jennie Clark was somewhat similar to that made on Mrs. Clara Clark. The party stated she was a professional crook.

Police who were sent to watch the Hoover and Clara Clark homes, report that no suspicious persons were seen.

BLACKHAND THEORY SCOUTED.
Chief O. J. Roush scouted the theory that the demands were made by blackhanders. All three women state that whoever was speaking in the wire, used good language and spoke without a trace of foreign accent.

Mrs. Jennie Clark stated that the woman opened the conversation with her by asking if she did washings.

When told no, the woman remarked that Mrs. Clark "seemed to have a lot of clothing on the line."

In no case have the demands been made upon persons of affluence.

WIFE JAILED ON CHARGE OF ATTACKING HUSBAND

CANTON — Mary Flamingo is in jail here, charged with attacking her husband, Leon, 46, a pool room proprietor, who she slept with. Flamingo used a hatchet, slashing her husband, who is in a hospital. Officials are investigating the woman's sanity. Flamingo declares that the first blow awakened him, but he was so stunned that he lost consciousness. After the attack, Mrs. Flamingo went to police headquarters. Flamingo will recover. Jealousy is ascribed as the motive.

$400 FUND REALIZED FROM CHARITY CONCERT

The amount of $400 will be realized as a result of the charity concert, given at St. Rose auditorium Sunday evening, under the auspices of St. Rose charity council.

More than 700 people attended the concert. Leading Lima artists donated their services. The funds will be expended to aid the needy of the city.

LODGE NOTICES

All members of Lima Council, No. 528, S. B. A., are requested to meet in Eagle Hall, Tuesday at 8:30 a. m., to attend the funeral services of Sister Florese Potts.

KILLS HIMSELF.
CARBONDALE Ills.—J. H. Lamar, 62, of Camden, Ohio, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head at a local hotel today. Lamar was a rubber salesman.

LIMA BANKS WILL CLOSE AT NOON TUESDAY. ELECTION DAY.

SNOW PREDICTED FOR THE MORROW

COLDER tomorrow, that's the flash released by the weatherman if the prognostication is correct, there'll be rain or snow by Tuesday.

Greater demand for overcoats and heavyies is due with predicted unsettled conditions, with more prospect of snow than for rain in this region.

Partly cloudy to night, in preparation for the gloom conditions to come later, as arranged by the W. M.

Those who believe in "forewarned is forearmed" is not worrying about the weather prospect, having provided plenty of fuel against colder conditions. Only those who have been playing the "Arkansas Traveler" act are on the worry wagon.

It's better late than never, tho. And the weather forecaster has performed his duty as he sees it, whether snow comes tomorrow or not.

SENT TO PRISON

Mrs. Southard Sentenced for Murder of Husband

TWIN FALLS, Idaho.—(By Associated Press.)—Mrs. Lydia Meyer Southard, convicted here last week of the murder of Edward F. Meyer, her fourth husband, was sentenced today in district court to from ten years to life imprisonment.

The defendant stood up, fixed her eyes upon the bench and received the sentence without a tremor.

Notice of appeal was filed by her attorneys but a stay of execution of sentence was not asked.

Mrs. Southard yesterday packed up all her belongings about the county jail and, according to her attorneys, had expressed a wish to begin serving her sentence at once.

Under Idaho laws the duration of indeterminate sentences is largely in the hands of the state parole board.

Mrs. Southard appeared in court alone except for her attorneys. Her husband left for San Francisco last night to resume his position as a petty officer in the navy.

CRUSHES WIFE'S HEAD, SLASHES OWN WRISTS

CLEVELAND — Mrs. Mary Suva was found in bed early today with the side of her head crushed in. Beside her lay her two-year-old baby Mildred, with her arms about the mother's neck. A few feet away Henry Suva, the husband and father, was found on the floor with his wrists slashed and a bloody razor alongside of him. The parents are in a hospital. Physicians do not expect them to live.

According to an elder child the parents quarreled Saturday night. Police believe Suva struck his wife with a hammer and then slashed his own wrists in an attempt at suicide.

Police say Suva was released from the workhouse Saturday. According to the children, the father blamed the mother for his sentence.

F. J. BANTA AUTO IS STOLEN AND ABANDONED

Banta was unable to give the identity of F. J. Banta, company, was seized in the living room of his home, 313 S. Cole-st., Sunday evening. He heard the roar of a motor outside.

He looked out of the window and saw his 1921 Model Cadillac touring car racing away from the curb. He was unable to halt the flight of the thieves.

The car was taken about dusk, he told police.

DONOVAN, WILLIS IN OHIO PEN

Bandit Pair Removed to Columbus Monday

CONVICTED OF FETT ROBBERY

Gangsters Sentenced to Serve Three Years

George Donovan and Joe Willis, alleged members of the McGahan-Townsend bandit gang, are now behind the walls of the Ohio penitentiary.

The two men were taken to the penitentiary Monday. The start was made in an automobile at 6:30 a. m. Deputy Sheriff Clarence Fraunfelder was in charge of the transportation of the prisoners to the penitentiary.

Assisting him in their removal were Frank Eberle, formerly desk sergeant at Lima police headquarters, and L. B. Baxter, son of Sheriff Charles Baxter.

LANDED SAFELY.
At a little after 6 a. m. Sheriff Baxter received word from Deputy Sheriff Fraunfelder that Willis and Donovan were safely confined in the penitentiary.

Donovan and Willis are entering upon a sentence of three years, imposed by Judge F. C. Becker in July, following their conviction in June, this year, of highway robbery of the farm home of the Pett Brothers, Richmond, Ind., the night of May 13.

They had been confined in the county jail 163 days, none of which will be considered in reducing their penitentiary sentence.

They are charged with taking $2,500 in Liberty bonds and a small amount of money, after binding the Pett brothers, hand and foot, to chairs. The bonds have never been recovered.

TAKEN AFTER BATTLE.
Donovan and Willis were taken here the afternoon of May 21, last, following the robbery of the Hunt-erstown, Ind., bank and a running gun battle between bank bandits and police on the streets of south Lima.

At that time one of the south Lima Raleigh Townsend, was killed by a bullet from a policeman's gun and the leader of the band, George McGahan, escaped, after being wounded.

Sheriff Baxter waited three days, following the action of the appellate court Friday, for their case to be taken to the supreme court, but when no motion was filed to admit it to the highest tribunal of the state, prosecuting Attorney Lippincott refused longer to allow Willis and Donovan to remain here.

Boy Charged With Robbing Woman's Apartment

Wilbur Wehinger, 19, of 110 Euclid-ave, was arrested at his home at midnight Sunday by Plainclothes officer Rolla Glover, on a charge of burglarizing the apartment of Vivian Bowers, 201 1-2 S. Main-st. He is alleged to have stolen two change bags, containing about $50.

Miss Bowers told police that she said she had found the boy in her apartment on several occasions. He was formerly a chum of her younger brother, she said and first came to her flat with him.

Her door key was stolen some time ago and her mother and others found the boy in the flat several times, they said. He claimed to have been there looking for the brother.

Saturday the banks, issued to savings depositors by the Lima Trust company were stolen. Wehinger will be arraigned late Monday.

VETERAN SOLAR EMPLOYEE DIES FROM COMPLICATION

Lawrence F. Brown, 68, employee of the Solar Refinery for the past 21 years, died at his home, 1110 Foeste-ave, Monday at 10:30 a. m. He was ill 10 days.

Brown was a member of St. John's Catholic church and of the Holy Name society. He is survived by a widow and seven children.

They are Edward J. Brown, William J. Brown, Franklin P. Brown, Mrs. Joseph Rubley, Mrs. Frank Rubley, Mrs. Clarence Cunningham, all of Lima, and Mrs. Floyd Baker, Sandusky.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. at St. John's Catholic church. Interment will be at Gethsemani.

SISSON'S SUIT FOR DAMAGES WITHDRAWN

The suit of Don Sisson against Thomas F. Brady, employee of the Swift company, for slander, was dismissed in common pleas court, Monday.

Sisson charged that Brady called him a thief and said he had stolen milk cans. Sisson sued for $5,000 damages.

Sisson was sentenced recently to a term in the Mansfield reformatory after he pleaded guilty to perjury in connection with his trial in police court for the theft of parts from an abandoned automobile on the Marion-d, in September.

SAFE IN TOLEDO STORE IS ROBBED OF $9,000

TOLEDO — Safe crackers escaped with $9,000 in cash when they smashed a large "burglar proof" safe in the warehouse of the Sam Bellman Chain Stores Company here Sunday, police were notified today.

Bellman discovered the safe smashed open yesterday but was unaware that it contained any great amount of money and did not notify the police until today when a check of the contents of the safe was completed and it was found that the safe contained all of the Saturday receipts of the 27 Toledo stores and a large amount of cash from rent collections. This is the tenth time that the Bellman stores have been robbed this year.

NO LONGER FEARS RACE SUICIDE

PROF. E. A. ROSS.

MADISON, Wis.—Prof. E. A. Ross of the olden times are out of the question today.

This is the opinion of Prof. E. A. Ross, head of the University of Wisconsin Sociology Department, who 20 years ago, coined the expression, "race suicide."

"The nation today is gaining enough population by reduction in death rate, compared with the birth rate, to meet the situation which 20 years ago was considered alarming," says Prof. Ross.

That is why he now is in favor of small families.

"Nobody, 20 years ago, could have foreseen that life would be saved as we are saving it," Ross said. "Certain diseases that reaped a heavy death toll have been successfully combated. As a result, the death rate has fallen off one-quarter since 1919."

CHILDREN'S HOME CONTRACT LET

$33,653 Improvements at County Institution

Potts Brothers, Lima, were awarded a contract Monday for the erection of a new dormitory to be built at the Allen-Cor Children's home. They will receive $24,000.

Potts Brothers bid $23,000 on the construction of the job. They specified, however, that if the use of shale brick was desired, the work would be done for $24,000. Commissioners adopted the use of shale brick, which resembles closely the color of brick in the old building at the home.

The Lima Construction company bid $23,200 and Adam Vandevier, Lima, offered $23,587. The contract was let to Potts Brothers, includes both labor and materials to complete the job.

The wiring and conduit for the dormitory was let to the Westworth-Dean company, Lima, for $413. V. H. Effinger & Son, Lima, bid $599.

The Williams Bros. company, Lima, was awarded the contract for heating at a cost of $9,240. The Jones-Kinn Engineering company, Lima, bid $10,400 on the work.

Contracts for providing the ventilating stack and fresh air ducts will be given at a later date. Because of the bad weather which is ahead of the work and the fact it will possibly cause children to be subjected to more or less exposure of weather, Architect F. M. Leach asked that this work be done later, when good weather prevails.

Contracts were therefore withheld. The Jones-Kinn company bid $2,200 on the ventilating contract and Williams Bros. $2,375. The Jones-Kinn company bid $300 on furnishing the fresh-air ducts and Williams Bros. $324.

It is scarcely probable, commissioners and architect say, to complete the job before early next summer. Work will be commenced at once and rushed as rapidly as weather will permit.

100 DEATHS IN OHIO IS ALCOHOLISM'S TOLL

COLUMBUS — Deaths in Ohio due to alcoholism, are decreasing, records of the state bureau of vital statistics showed today.

There have been 100 deaths in the state so far this year from alcoholism or alcohol poisoning, Dr. U. G. Auerbach, registrar, declared today. He pointed out that the records were not complete and that the total would be raised slightly.

Moonshine whiskey, Jamaica ginger, colored alcohol and poison raisin Jack, have caused the majority of deaths, Dr. Murrell said. The department, however, does not keep separate records of the cause of these deaths.

HOT CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK ENDS

Ballot Tomorrow Decides Race Between Hylan and Curran

8 CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

Seven Amendments Are Also to be Voted on

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press.) — New York's mayoralty campaign came to a whirlwind close today. Tomorrow, more than 1,250,000 voters will have the opportunity of going to the polls and casting their votes for one of eight candidates for mayor and other municipal officers.

The candidates for mayor are: Mayor John F. Hylan, who seeks re-election; Major Henry H. Curran, Republican; Coalition; Magistrate Jacob Panken, Socialist; Jerome de Hunt, Farmer-Labor; George C. Hinds, Prohibition; John P. Quinn, Socialist-Labor; Joseph D. Miller, Single Tax and Benjamin Gitlow, Workers League (Communists).

Curran's name was dropped strictly on from the ballot because he is serving a sentence in Sing Sing prison for anarchy. Officials of the Communist party, however, said his name would be written in the ballot.

Seven proposed amendments to the state constitution are to be acted upon. The most important of these is the proposal to give former soldiers preference in civil service positions.

MAIN BATTLE.
The main battle, all observers agree, will be between Mayor Hylan and Major Curran. Both have conducted vigorous campaigns, in which the Hylan has been passed frequently. The mayor has charged his opponent with representing the "plunder-brood," "the interests" and "the traction crowd." In denial, Major Curran accused the mayor of gross inefficiency.

Of all the many issues, the subject most talked about has been the dividend fare on the traction lines. Mayor Hylan has claimed he prevented the fare from being raised, Major Curran, asserting that he too is for the nickel fare, has charged that the fare question isn't an issue—that it is a smoke-screen talked by the Mayor to cover up maladministration.

HILAN SLOGAN.
Mayor Hylan's admirers have used the slogan "Honest John. He is Fighting for You." He was elected chief executive four years ago on a Tammany Hall tidal wave. He received 312,774, as against 155,378 for late Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, running on a Fusion ticket; 144,733 for Morris Hillquit, Socialist and 57,299 for W. M. Bennett, Republican.

The event was arranged by the Y. M. C. A. and the men of the churches.

BONUS DEFEATED

Senate Again Refuses to Tack it on Tax Bill

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Another effort to write the soldiers' bonus bill into the tax revision measure failed today, the senate rejecting, 42 to 29, the Simmons amendment proposing to pay the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt.

Six Republicans supported the Simmons amendment and one Democrat, Myers, Montana, voted against it. The Republicans were Capper, Johnson, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette and Norris.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE OF MERCHANT BODY TO PLAN CHRISTMAS EFFORT

Publicity committee of the Lima Merchants' association will meet at 3:30 Wednesday morning to formulate plans for an intensive advertising and publicity campaign in Lima prior to the Christmas holidays.

J. E. Morton, secretary of the Merchants' association, said Monday several new ideas would be introduced in the annual holiday drive this year. Members of the publicity committee are progressing in making preliminary preparations for the opening of Display Week, set at a recent meeting to start Sunday, November 28, with a big special Christmas Shopping edition of The Lima News.

ROTARY HOLDS OLD-TIME MEMBER LUNCHEON MEET

Lima Rotary club held an old-time member meeting at luncheon Monday. Talks on a score of different topics together with club singing made an interesting session. Some time was given to favorable arguments for supporting the Soldiers' bonus, school three bill levy and picking the personnel of the new City Commission. Among the speakers were G. A. Heritt, John E. Galvin, Virgil Knisely, Dr. Pierce and D. J. Cable.

SEAT SUBJECT TO TAX

WASHINGTON — A seat upon the New York stock exchange is subject to a state tax, the supreme court held today in deciding an appeal brought by John M. Anderson from a decision of the Ohio supreme court, which held a seat upon the exchange property within the tax law of that state.

COLD WAVE FORECAST.
KANSAS CITY, MO. — A cold wave which will cover Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and most of northern Oklahoma was forecast today by the government weather observer here. A cold rain, beginning tonight, followed by snow Tuesday morning with temperature below freezing over the entire area by tomorrow, were predicted.

ESTATE SETTLEMENT TROUBLES ARE AIRED

Trial of the case of Alice Clark Bollinger against Frank B. Coiter is occupying the attention of a jury and Judge F. C. Becker, in common pleas court Monday.

Coiter formerly served as guardian of Miss Bollinger. The suit grows out of difficulties arising from settlement of the estate.

EXPERTS AT WORK ON GAS PLANT VALUATION

Fuller & McClintock, consulting engineers of New York, have started work checking the assigned valuation of the Lima Natural Gas company for the city. Their estimates will be prepared and in readiness when protest is filed at hearing, of the case before the utilities commission in Columbus November 14. It was announced Monday.

The engineers were retained after counsel for the city had recommended to council that a check of the assessed valuation of the gas company as fixed by the utilities commission, which the city maintains is too high, be made. The work has been in progress several days and will be completed in time for presentation at the hearing in Columbus next week.

LAWLESSNESS IS WORLD TROUBLE

Judge Wannamaker Urges Less Criticism of Government

Judge R. M. Wannamaker of the Ohio supreme court, bent on addressing a large audience at Memorial Hall Sunday afternoon on "America's Only Way Out."

Basing the theme of his address on biblical history Judge Wannamaker urged Americans to a closer investigation of themselves and advised less criticism of the government. His lecture was enthusiastically received.

"There is more history in the making right now than ever before," declared Judge Wannamaker. "What is wrong with the world? Lawlessness is the trouble. We are not examining ourselves closely enough. The trouble lies within. Less criticism of the government and closer examination of ourselves is necessary to effect adjustment of the present situation," he declared.

"The times are out of joint and we should not speak so much of the four years of war just past, but should examine more closely the war within. It is not so much a government of nations, as a government of selves. The basic facts of human life have not changed much since the days of Cain and Abel. The old question 'Am I my brother's keeper?' is easily answered. We are brothers in blood but are brothers in naught else."

"Some people believe in an equal share in everything but not an equal share of the world's burdens or a share in popular service to mankind. That situation must be adjusted before the world and its nations can be brought back to tranquility. Men brought back to tranquility. Men brought back to tranquility. Men brought back to tranquility."

Commandments—on a tablet of stone. These same Ten Commandments have too little place in American life today, and we have got to get back to them before we can adjust ourselves," the speaker said.

Judge Wannamaker was a principal in the West side school in Lima 30 years ago. He was introduced at Memorial Hall Sunday by Judge William Klinger.

The event was arranged by the Y. M. C. A. and the men of the churches.

PAIR FACES COURT

Mrs. Obenshain and Burch to Answer Murder Charge

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — (By United Press.) — Madalynne Obenshain and Arthur C. Burch, accused of murdering John Belton Kennedy, both faced Judge Reeve today in their fight for liberty.

The woman is accused of having lured Kennedy, wealthy broker, to a midnight trap in lonely Beverly Glen.

The man is alleged to have shot Kennedy in the back while the woman looked on.

Ralph Obenshain, former husband of Madalynne, who stepped aside to let her go with Kennedy and who later was reconciled with her, was to appear in court as an attorney for the woman. He planned to urge Judge Reeve to dismiss his own motion to drop the charge against her. This sudden shift in defense tactics is unexplained.

SENATOR WILLIS VOTES FOR STATE BONUS

WASHINGTON—Altho he voted against the Reed bonus amendment to the taxation bill and will vote against similar amendments here, Senator Willis, of Ohio, voted for payment by the state of a bonus to Ohio soldiers in his ballot forwarded by mail to be opened tomorrow.

"The bonus, national and state, is a fair and just proposition," Senator Willis said, "and will be authorized by congress, but the Reed and other plans are political measures intended to place the Republicans in the hole."

BUSINESS HIT BY WAITING SPELL

Trading Centers Halt for International Developments

EYES TURN ON WASHINGTON

Country Warned Against Relapse Into Pessimism

(BY H. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK.—(Special).—The inclination in high places now is to wait international developments, particularly at Washington. For this and other reasons hesitancy rather than quickened improvement, may be experienced temporarily.

In this event, a relapse into pessimism must be guarded against. The progress already made is more substantial and more comprehensive than popularly recognized. Stop for a moment and reflect upon such developments as these:

The wherewithal to conduct business and enterprise has declined very substantially in cost and increased enormously in supply. The largest Federal Reserve has this year lowered its discount rate from 7 to 4 1/2 per cent. Instead of bond issues carrying 8 per cent coupons, the latest railway offering gives a yield of less than 6 per cent. The treasury department, after paying as low as 4 1/4 per cent on its new obligations, was tendered $600,000,000 when it asked for only $200,000,000. The country's reserve ratio last week climbed to a new maximum since 1917, at 71 per cent. The consequence is that competition for trustworthy bonds at advancing quotations is now keen, and it is a moral certainty that the availability of an abundance of borrowable capital will stimulate the spread and the speeding up of enterprise all around. Capital, like labor, must needs find employment in order to earn.

In many important industries buyers are no longer alarmed. Best prices slump slightly after purchases have been made. The index numbers show very clearly that the general price trend has become stabilized, with a slight tendency towards an advance rather than a further decline. A realization of this condition cannot well fail to whet demands, not merely for prompt shipments but for future delivery, especially as sound concerns hereafter will experience little difficulty in obtaining necessary credit facilities.

That dependable index, iron and steel output, reveals that the corner has been definitely turned. The improvement both in production and in orders is already quite pronounced, and all indications are that the two principal consumers, the railroads and builders, will expand their demands very substantially during coming months—the railroads because they are getting into a better financial position, the builders because building is reviving very briskly. Lowering of the price for steel rails has started negotiations which may result in the placing of very extensive tonnage.

In virtually every other industry conditions today are notably better than a year ago, although the change has come about so gradually in most instances that the extent of the recovery is not fully recognized. Leading woolen mills are booked up for months ahead of time. Both raw cotton and cotton goods interests are decidedly better off.

The oil industry recently has enjoyed something of a boom, as reflected by rather sharp advances in crude oil prices.

The leather and shoe industry, at one time prostrated, is in reasonably healthy condition.

Surplus copper is gradually moving into consumption at prices which at least tend upwards rather than downwards, and before long mining operations should increase materially.

The latest weekly figures show more freight cars loaded than in any previous week since October of last year.

At last week's auction of government wool, prices advanced 7 1/2 to 10 per cent. The world's largest railroad took on 7,400 additional employees between September 16 and October 16, bringing its total force 207,000.

Both sugar and coffee have been much more active at strengthening prices.

Furs, totally neglected not so long ago, are now all the rage. It is significant, too, that paper consumption is expanding, and that advertising is beginning to pick up.

Unemployment is decreasing. Should the winter bring increased idleness in some directions, apparently effective plans have been formulated to cope with it.

Marshall Field and Company report that its road salesmen are sending in "more than double" the orders received at this time last year.

The monthly reviews of the federal reserve board and of various federal reserve banks are quite encouraging in tone. The Philadelphia Reserve bank, for example, records that of thirty separate lines of business demand is "good" in nine, "fair" in sixteen, and "poor" in only three.

Furthermore, merchants consider prospects for holiday trade are very much brighter than they were last year. The "buyers' strike" has subsided. There is, too, this important fact to be taken into calculation. The majority of those who work for a weekly salary are in a position to purchase a larger volume of merchandise now than last year, prices having come down more than salary.

Discriminating courage, not blind optimism, is what the present situation and the outlook warrants. (Copyright, 1921.)

C. A. DINGLEDINE DEATH VICTIM

New Pastor Named for Catholic Church at Minster

ST. MARYS.—(Special).—Charles A. Dingledine, 63, well known farmer residing west of Buckland, died Saturday afternoon, from spinal meningitis, originating from an affection of the ear. Deceased was born in Logan, Pa., in 1857 and was a lifelong resident of that territory. He is survived by his widow and one son.

Amelia Becholdt has filed suit for divorce from Edward Becholdt, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. She also asks for restoration of her maiden name, Amelia Allenbach.

Rev. Chrysostom Hummer has been placed in charge of St. Augustine Catholic church at Minster, succeeding Rev. Eugene Grimm, who was pastor there 20 years and who is critically ill in Chicago, from cancer of the stomach.

William Topp, 79, died Saturday at the home of his son John near New Bremen, south of here, from bowel trouble and rupture. He was preceded in death by his wife.

Valuable black walnut timber is being recovered from the old "Coffee House," razed here at Spring and Walnut-sts, to make room for more modern structure.

John Diegel, 80, a pioneer resident of Auglaize-co., died at his home near New Knoxville. He resided for 52 years on the farm where his death occurred. He is survived by his wife and five sons.

SON IS BORN.

DEATH IS SUDDEN

Indiana Woman Dies at W. J. McLaughlin Home

Apparently in the best of health Mrs. Warren G. Gray, Montpelier, Indiana, widely known here for a number of years, dropped dead at the home of her nephew, W. J. McLaughlin, West Elmhurst, at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Gray had been the guest of Mrs. T. A. McLaughlin and the two women were spending the day at the home of the former's son. Mrs. Gray was admiring some books when she suddenly fell into the arms of her nephew, dead, due to heart failure. The body was removed to the home of Mrs. T. A. McLaughlin. Three sons survive, Walter, Warren and Gail Gray and until word is heard from their homes in Oklahoma, funeral arrangements will not be completed.

PHYSICIANS WARNED BY PROHIBITION CHIEF

COLUMBUS.—Physicians, druggists and dentists who have not filed their liquor permits with state prohibition enforcement agents are to be rounded up this week, according to State prohibition commissioner Parker, who says that many of the professional men have been negligent in this regard.

"There are some 6,000 doctors, dentists and druggists holding permits in Ohio," Parker declared, and not more than a thousand of them have filed these permits with the state department as required in the McCoy act.

MILLS RUSHED IN CHATTANOOGA

Textile Business at Tennessee City Sets High Mark

OCTOBER THE BANNER MONTH

Lumber Demand Developing and Prices Stiffening

(BY RICHARD SPILLANE.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—Nov. 7.—Among the gentlemen who gathered at the Mountain City club to report to your representative on conditions in Chattanooga were: G. W. Howard, industrial commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, Charles Clark of E. W. Clark and Company, bankers, of Philadelphia, who control electric light power and traction properties here, in addition to like enterprises in Detroit, coast and in nearly all of Michigan, exclusive of Detroit; Scott L. Probaser, president Chamber of Commerce; W. A. Sadd, president Chattanooga Savings bank; Senator Newel Sanders, agricultural implement; George F. Milton, editor Chattanooga News; H. S. Thatcher, Thatcher Spinning Company; Thomas Preston, Hanover National bank; H. B. Whitman, E. W. Clark and Company; Frederick Arn, J. M. Card lumber Co., F. L. Miller, United Hosiery Mills; Gaston Raoul, Tennessee Furniture corporation; P. J. Kruesel, Pe. to Alloys Company; Garrett Andrews, Richmond Hosiery Company; C. C. Nottingham, president First National bank; George Smith, United Hosiery Company; S. R. Read, Chatham National Bank and proprietor Road Hotel.

There is little complaint in Chattanooga of business conditions. On the contrary in a large majority of the greatly diversified and line of industry in the Mountain City activity is pronounced.

Textiles predominate. There are three bleaching concerns, two clothing manufacturing establishments, 17 hosiery mills, four mattress plants, two shirt factories, six underwear houses, woolen manufacturing and three yarn mills. The Thatcher Spinning mill what is one of the equipped in America, is owned largely by Philadelphians. The largest oil well machinery plant of the world is here. There are a large lot of proprietary medicines houses whose stuff is sold the nation over. There are nearly a score of lumber plants, five railroad shops, various wood working establishments, limestone products concerns and other works too many to catalogue.

Mr. Clark said while it was generally true there had been a decline of about 20 per cent in the consumption of electrical power owing to the industrial decline, his property in Portland, Oregon, had held its own until the present time. In Michigan there was a drop of 35 per cent but in Chattanooga there had been a consumption in September substantially in excess of September last year.

Mr. Preston said collections were good and there had been steady improvement in the liquidation of loans. Rediscovers were on about same scale as for the last six months. Savings banks deposits were good while individual and bank deposits were low.

Mr. Thatcher said his mills, one here and one in Alabama represented a specialized branch of supply to mills in the spinning and merchandizing of fine yarns this year for production had been the heaviest in their history. They had been working full time since January and steadily increasing production, that of October being the largest. He was sold up for 1921 and well into 1922. His production was from 500,000 to 600,000 pounds of yarn a month. Mills selling to jobbers do not seem to be so well supplied. He has not advanced prices to any degree commensurate with the advance in cost.

One of the lumber men said he had shipped recently for export for the first time this year. Considerable demand had developed in the last sixty days and there had been a stiffening of prices. The mayor said Chattanooga's unemployment figures were exceptionally favorably by comparison with other industrial cities and he did not think it would be necessary to take extraordinary steps to meet the situation this winter. He considered the government's estimate incorrect as to this city.

WATSON'S CHARGE IS DENIED

Wapakoneta Man Witnessed Execution of Rapist

WAS GIVEN A FAIR TRIAL

Fire Loss at Uniopolis Now Placed at $8,000

WAKAK.—(Special).—Among the military men who witnessed the execution of one of the soldiers described in the sensational charges of Senator Tom Watson was Dr. G. E. Faulder, this city, a captain in the medical corps during the war.

Faulder was stationed near the Meuse river when he saw the hanging of a negro mentioned by Watson, but he vehemently denies that the fellow was not given a trial. Faulder declares the man was properly tried at court martial by American army men. The negro was found guilty of assaulting a 72-year old French woman.

The loss by fire of the Bathers store and Taylor residence in Uniopolis Saturday morning will total about $8,000, according to revised figures. The residence, owned by Charles Taylor, was valued at $3,500 and is a total loss. It was insured for $2,000. The contents was valued at $1,500, of which goods worth $250 were destroyed. There was $1,000 insurance on the contents. Due to the fact that the owner of the store building, John Scherlott, resides in Elcom, Ohio, figures are not obtainable on the store loss, but local insurance men declare the loss on the building and contents, including Bathers' household goods, is between $4,000 and $5,000.

This city is already preparing for a chautauqua for next summer. George Baumer, Minster, was fined $5 and costs by Squire Hermann for failure to send a child of compulsory age to school. Ben Senger of the same village was fined $20 and costs for failure to take out an employer's certificate for hiring a child of compulsory school age.

Four schools in Wapakoneta averaged 55 seconds each in clearing the buildings of pupils at the annual fire drill.

Among Ohio State alumni who will participate in the Starbuck-Rainbow football for the benefit of the Family Service Society, a Columbus charitable organization, November 28, is Judge H. E. Boesel, this city, a former O. S. U. star. The "Starbucks" will be Ohio State alumni and the "Rainbows" old stars from other colleges.

BOY, WITH FRACTURED SKULL, MAY NOT RECOVER
Condition of John Robert Satterthwaite, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Satterthwaite, 453 S. Pierce-st. Delphos, is unchanged at St. Rita's hospital, to which the child was brought after having suffered a fractured skull near his home, Friday afternoon.

An operation, to which the child was subjected Saturday night, failed to relieve his condition. He is still unconscious.

The boy was run down by an auto driven by L. P. DeWitt of Van Wert, while playing with other children in the street. The wheels did not pass over his head, but there is a fracture at the top of the skull and a possible fracture at the base of the brain.

There is little hope for his recovery, physicians say.

MRS. ROLLO POTTS FALLS VICTIM OF COMPLICATION
Mrs. Flossie May Potts, 36, wife of Rollo Potts, 288 Wedlock-ave., died Sunday morning at her home, after an illness from a complication of diseases. Besides the husband, she is survived by a son, Harold Hillyard, by a former marriage; three half sisters and four half brothers.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the residence. The Rev. C. R. Melt, Lima, will officiate. Interment will be in Maplewood cemetery, on the Spencerville-rd.

DEATH OF INFANT.
Mary Smith, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Smith, 1187 N. Boyer-st., died Sunday, shortly after birth. Prayer services were held Monday afternoon at the residence. Interment was in Fletcher cemetery.

CONTINUANCE OF THE SCHOOL LEVY

Lima Compared With Other Cities

Daily you see the moving throngs of children on their way to and from the schools. In 1917 and 1918 by your approval of the two mills you guaranteed to all these eight thousand boys and girls equal opportunities for an education with the youth of every other city in the State. These two mills how produce one-third of the total available funds for salaries of teachers and other employees and other current expenses.

But this five-year period expires next year. Meanwhile the increase in property valuation for taxation purposes has not kept pace with the growth in school population, and failure to continue the two mills can only result in crowding the schools and the loss of our best teachers.

The one additional mill for the retirement of the war-time deficiency bonds will cost but ten cents on each hundred dollars of tax duplicate valuation. This is not a bond issue. It is merely an extension of present educational opportunities to every child for a period of five years.

The cost is small and yet through the approval of this millage levy it will be possible to continue to operate the Lima Schools on as economically a basis as any city in the State, and yet maintain their efficiency in the interest of the eight thousand boys and girls enrolled.

In order that you may compare Lima's school finances with those of other cities, the following table is given of the six cities next in order above Lima in population, and five representative cities below Lima in population and school enrollment. According to the last census, Lima is the eleventh city in the State in population. These first eleven cities in order are as follows: Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus, Akron, Dayton, Youngstown, Canton, Springfield, Lakewood and Lima.

From column (4) you will see that Lima's school bonded indebtedness is lowest among these twelve cities with one exception. Our outstanding bonds are in the main, obligations voted for the construction of South High School, the Administration building, and other improvements in 1916.

You will note from column (5) and (6) that Lima has the lowest valuation of property for taxation, per individual, of any city in the list. This lower valuation naturally creates less school revenue than is produced in other cities having property listed at a higher valuation.

In column (7) you will note that all twelve cities, except Lima, have voted an additional millage levy for schools above the Smith law limitations since 1919. School expenditures in Lima, however, have been held within the original limitations of the law.

As one of the three means of financial relief the legislature in 1920 authorized by vote of the people the removal of all sinking funds or bonds and interest indebtedness outside the limitations, so as to make available all funds within the law for current expenses. It will be noted from column (8) that Lima is one of the five of these twelve cities that have financed their schools without asking this additional means of relief.

WATSON'S CHARGE IS DENIED

Wapakoneta Man Witnessed Execution of Rapist

WAS GIVEN A FAIR TRIAL

Fire Loss at Uniopolis Now Placed at $8,000

WAKAK.—(Special).—Among the military men who witnessed the execution of one of the soldiers described in the sensational charges of Senator Tom Watson was Dr. G. E. Faulder, this city, a captain in the medical corps during the war.

Faulder was stationed near the Meuse river when he saw the hanging of a negro mentioned by Watson, but he vehemently denies that the fellow was not given a trial. Faulder declares the man was properly tried at court martial by American army men. The negro was found guilty of assaulting a 72-year old French woman.

The loss by fire of the Bathers store and Taylor residence in Uniopolis Saturday morning will total about $8,000, according to revised figures. The residence, owned by Charles Taylor, was valued at $3,500 and is a total loss. It was insured for $2,000. The contents was valued at $1,500, of which goods worth $250 were destroyed. There was $1,000 insurance on the contents. Due to the fact that the owner of the store building, John Scherlott, resides in Elcom, Ohio, figures are not obtainable on the store loss, but local insurance men declare the loss on the building and contents, including Bathers' household goods, is between $4,000 and $5,000.

VOTE FOR THE BONUS!

WHEN the boys came marching home victorious from the world war you were proud of them; proud that they had entered the greatest struggle of all time and had been found not wanting.

You knew that they had offered their lives that you might continue to live in freedom and enjoy life in a great country free from an oppressor because they had fought and won.

There was not a man or a woman in this broad land who did not glory in the exploits of the valiant soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses. But while you were rejoicing over their return and grieving for those who made the supreme sacrifice, did it occur to you that they had made other great sacrifices than those on the fields of battle? Did you stop to realize what they had given up in a pecuniary way when they took up arms against a common foe?

If it did not, your attention is respectfully directed to the fact that they were paid a very insignificant sum compared with their brothers who remained at home and drew high wages. Everyone reaped a golden harvest during the war except the men who were doing the fighting.

Every voter has an opportunity to help repay these men in a small way by voting the bonus at the polls Tuesday. This provides for $10 a month for each month served by an Ohioan in the army, navy, marine corps and for nurses.

It is a debt you owe. Pay it by voting YES on the bonus Tuesday.

FATHER AND SON

NEARLY every elderly man, now living, looks back to his boyhood and recalls that his father was strict, solemn and stern. In those days, children usually were kept in awe of their fathers, ruled by fear.

That system, now changed, had its advantages. When father said something, he meant it. When he exchanged confidences with his son, he spoke words of wisdom. To son, father was an oracle, a man of wisdom, a figure mighty and with a peculiar atmosphere of mystery.

Times have changed. Children in our day are ruled more by reasoning and by guidance than by fear of father and the wood-shed's paddles.

But, in the change, childhood has lost something of great value—the intimacy of proper attention by father to son.

Fathers in 1921 are too busy. Telephone, telegraph, fast mails and express trains, along with a growing intricacy of civilization's economic machine, keep father's mind on many parts of the country or other countries, instead of concentrated near home. Son suffers by neglect.

In the endless procession of special weeks comes one really worth while—Father-and-Son Week, now being observed. Every father during the week should take time to cultivate his son's confidence, take a special interest in son's activities and impart words of wisdom. While we are at it, it would be a good idea to make every week Father-and-Son Week.

BRYAN IS RIGHT

A WISE and interesting comment comes from William Jennings Bryan, champion long-distance political runner.

A well-rounded education, says Bryan, requires education of the body, of the mind and of the heart. The heart is most important.

We have schools and printed knowledge to educate the mind.

But very little is being done in America to educate the heart. Which is a great mistake. For most of the big problems, which we are tackling as problems of the intellect, are Simon-pure problems of the heart—of individual honesty, justice and kindness.

It would be a good idea to give the young a rest from rules of grammar, mathematics and science, and take a few months off to teaching the Golden Rule. Incidentally, there should be night schools for the grown-ups.

BUSINESS depression is a big problem. Brains are concentrating on it—trying to end it by brain-created devices, such as tariffs, regulations, schemes and cure-alls. Business depression is a reaction from the period of greed—profiteering by nearly all of us, in one form or another.

The old law of Compensation is at work. We are getting paid for our sins. It isn't an intellectual problem. What is required is a change of heart—an entirely new attitude of tolerance and cooperation on the part of the whole nation.

The change is coming. When good times are here again, economists will cudgel their brains, chart the course of business with lines that look like lightning flashes. That will reveal results. But the charts will not show the great underlying cause of the return to prosperity. That cause will be a spiritual one—a matter of the heart.

ALL seek happiness. What is it? A state of mind? Partly. A state of body? To a small extent. But real happiness is a condition of the heart.

The philosophers have all recognized this. The great destroyers in history—like Napoleon and William Hohenzollern—have been all mind, no heart.

The great constructive geniuses in history—like Solomon, Confucius and Lincoln—have invariably been men of infinite heart, which expressed itself thru the intellect.

The heart needs education more than body or mind. Bryan is right.

CARELESSNESS

Autos and motorcycles killed more than 3000 people last year, says the census.

Nearly all of these fatalities were due to sheer carelessness and the driving of cars by incompetents.

Why not make every motorist take an examination before permitting him to drive a car? If he showed recklessness or lack of necessary technical knowledge, he could be trained. This will become compulsory, not many years hence, when there will be two or three times as many machines as now.

Simultaneously, in Burlington, Vt., a wife asked $100,000 for alienation of her husband's affections.

PATHETIC

Totling in the Colorado best fields are 1100 children, under 16 years. The stooped-over nature of their work has given 700 of them curvature of the spine or other postural deformities, says the Department of Labor's children's bureau. Four hundred are one to seven years behind in their studies.

Negro slavery at its worst never was a tenth as vicious as the slavery of child labor. End it!

JAPAN

Japan is spending the equivalent of $248,519,224 on her navy in the present fiscal year. Uncle Sam is spending $425,434,079, leading even Great Britain.

On the surface, we seem to be much more in need of disarmament than Japan. But the programs are not far apart, for $1 builds a lot more in Japan than in America. From the arms-limitation conference will come many such figures. Before taking them at face value, make allowances for varying purchasing power in different countries. EDUCATION

By DR. WM. E. BARTON

Our education comes high, but we must have it. We are likely to have more of it and to pay more for it. We are creating one new high school for every day in the year.

In 1870 this country had not more than 600 high schools. Before that, if any one wanted education beyond what the common schools afforded, he went to an academy, and his father paid for his board and tuition, or he worked his own way thru.

In 1880 we had about a thousand high schools. In 1890 we had 2400. We are now doubling every ten years. Now we have 13,951 high schools, and a new one is born every day.

These schools require $1,035 teachers, all of whom are paid out of the proceeds of taxation. Fifty years ago we had just a few academy teachers, living out of the proceeds of the tuition which the fathers of the children dug out of their farms.

The old method cultivated in the student a sense of values which the present method does not always produce. The boy who liked his trunk and who depended for his tuition on his father and on his own earnings for his pocket money, was likely to know the worth of what he was getting.

But the present method is intended to bring the advantages of all the education which the average boy or girl will take, within the easy reach of that girl or boy.

When, about a week ago, the high schools of the country opened, not less than 10 millions of boys and girls entered their doors and took up their work with more or less enthusiasm.

It costs more than the tax-payers ever supposed they were likely to pay, but there is no money which they spend more willingly, and not much that is better spent.

Education comes high, but we must have it.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
HEALTHY CHEAP.

Healthy living is cheap. Lots of people believe they cannot be healthy because they are not wealthy. This is wrong. It is true that rich people can do some things for their health that poor people cannot, but many rich people live unhealthy lives because they buy things which are not good for them. You may not be able to have the kind of a house you would like to live in. You may not be able to work in the factory or store or office you would like. You may not be able to do the kind of work you would like best but you can make all these things healthier.

You can keep more windows open in your home; you can often get the "boss" to keep more windows open in the factory or store; you may be able to move farther out of the city where it costs no more to live; you may be able to get another job. Even if you cannot do these things, you can do others that cost nothing. It costs you nothing to wear your clothes loose. It costs you nothing to have your windows open when you sleep. It costs you nothing to take breathing exercises or to stand, sit and walk erect. It costs you nothing to have your bowels move each day. It costs nothing to clean the teeth twice a day.

Remember that we can enjoy cheap food. Good healthy food is eating it. Here is the list of foods in which the cheapest are given first and the dearest last: Glucose, corn meal, wheat flour, oat meal, cane sugar, salt pork, rice, wheat bread, oleomargarine, beans, peas, potatoes, butter, milk, corn, beet stew, ham, mutton chops, beef, egg, oysters.

Cheap foods that contain protein, or "repair foods" are skim milk, beans, cheese and peanuts. Cheap foods that contain protein, starch or sugar are bread, bananas, glucose and cornmeal sugar. Other cheap "fuel" foods that contain fat are oleomargarine and cottonseed oil.

FACED FEELINGS DRAG SPIRITS DOWN

Caused By Decayed Waste in Blood—
Pepto-Mangan Needed

When a man's feelings get into a crumbling condition and the fabric of his strength seems unstable, and he begins to look worn and thin, discouraged thoughts, it is usually caused by stale blood, clogged with waste which acts like a poison on the system.

In stale, weakened blood Gude's Pepto-Mangan starts a change. It feeds the blood with iron and other ingredients that make blood red and full of vigor. There is immediate evidence of the restorative powers of enriched blood. Perhaps it is more noticeable in the smack and flavor of food. After sleep there is a sort of triumphant feeling, of refreshed vigor. Great is the light of restored health.

Physicians recommend and prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It is a recognized blood builder, and it has genuine medicinal value. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. adv.

For some slight domestic row;
If you think you'll continue to love him
When, after the honeymoon's end,
The idiosyncrasies of him
Prove quite an astonishing blend;
If you think you can stand him unshaven
And smoking a reeking duceen;
If you won't mind the way he'll behave in
The days you are "getting things clean;"
If you won't mind his being quite human
And sometimes a little bit less;
If you won't mind her being a woman
Instead of an angel, I guess,
In spite of some intervals scrappy,
Some boredom and friction and jar,
You'll find yourselves fully as happy
As average married folks are!

U. S. WILL END FAR EAST WOBBLING

Firm Stand Expected to be Taken at Arms Meet

GREAT BRITAIN TO FOLLOW

Program Drawn For the American Delegation

(Written Expressly for The Lima News)

(BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS)
WASHINGTON—A radical change of front on the part of the United States with regard to her policy in the Far East will make itself felt for the first time at the arms conference here, according to an important official of the Harding administration.

From an attitude of purely academic protest when the rights of her nationals abroad are assailed, America is expected to serve notice on the nations gathered here that a new rule of conduct, not so passive, will guide her actions in the future. England is likewise expected to make known a similar, tho less drastic, shift of policy, she having less far to go than the United States to arrive at the same stand.

As a result of this long step for America, and the shorter one for Britain, the two nations may fetch up very close together, at least on Pacific problems.

AMERICA'S PLATFORM
The American delegation's China platform, at the conference here, the same official indicated, will be:

FIRST—China is the concern of all the powers, not of any one power or group of powers.

TWO—The peace of the world must be preserved by insisting upon right international relationships in the Orient.

THREE—A solution of the problems of the Orient must be sought thru China.

FOUR—China's sovereignty must remain unimpaired and her territory unbridged.

FIVE—There must be a reorganization of China, by the Chinese—with such international aid as may be necessary—on a sound basis, and with a government acceptable to her own people, capable of preserving the peace, protecting life and property inside her borders and discharging her international obligations.

SIX—No special advantages must be allowed any power in China which are not allowed the United States.

SEVEN—What is her due, whether small or great, that America must have.

On paper these seven points are but the reiteration of the 22-year-old American policy of the "open door." But the significant contention now is that instead of allowing this doctrine to remain the dormant which it has been up to this time, the United States intends to stand by it, and make it effective.

FROM BALTIMORE TO PARIS

Miss Therese Strother, Baltimore society girl, is moving to Paris. She's a countess now, for she recently married Count de Percival.

as a necessary preliminary to agreement on Pacific questions.

CAUSE OF CHANGE

Behind this change of attitude there is an interesting story.

Accepted nearly a quarter of a century ago by all great powers, the American policy in the Orient has been stepped on and kicked about by nearly all. Japan, Great Britain's ally, has been one of the worst offenders, despite the Anglo-Japanese treaty pledging Japan to respect China's sovereignty.

"Why don't you make your ally respect the 'open door' and be good?" Uncle Sam unofficially, but none the less earnestly, whispered to John Bull.

"Why don't you?" was John Bull's retort courteous. "It's your 'door,' isn't it?"

Which ended the quiz.

Threatened with war as the result of twenty-odd years of drifting in the Far East, the Washington government now begins to show positive evidence of making a right-about face.

Great Britain, on her part, exhibits a willingness to cooperate with America. The question is, how far can the Harding Administration go with election pledges?

PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICA

French Premier Given Rousing Welcome at New York

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press.)—France is ready to join in every endeavor to avert new wars, "provided she has nothing to fear for her own security, which remains one of the most solid guarantees of the peace of the world," said Premier Aristide Briand in a message to the American people upon his arrival today to attend the armament conference at Washington.

"Just because she had to suffer from the war more than any other nation," he added, "she is ready to approach the problem of the conference in the most favorable spirit for the maintenance of peace."

"Between France and the United States there is no room for any difference, however slight. Both our countries only endeavor to lead the men and peoples of good will to peaceful and fruitful work and to reduce more and more the risks of war."

ROUSING WELCOME

A crowd gave the premier and his party a rousing welcome as they stepped ashore from the steamship Lafayette. Official welcoming ceremonies which marked the arrival of other delegations to the conference were dispensed with to allow M. Briand to go to Washington at once.

"On setting foot on the soil of the great American republic," said M. Briand's message, "my first thought goes back to those who generously came to mingle their blood with that of the soldiers of France, back to those fighters whom the United States sent over to us as the most precious thing they had, back to those magnificent high-souled youths with heroic hearts who fell for right and for liberty with a smile to the land that has piously entombed them. To their families France now sends me as a near relative. I am coming to assure them that the recollection of those heroes are deeply graven in the heart of every Frenchman."

"For centuries France has been the ground of the great struggles for civilization. The last war has shown that she is able to uphold her ideal to the utmost limit of sacrifice. She does not forget any of the nations that helped her in safeguarding her independence and saving the liberty of the world. She knows in particular what she owes to the fraternal devotion, to the mighty help which America brought her. The two countries are henceforth united in the same glory. They feel that this very union provides the best guarantee for the peace of the world and

CONGRESS STEPS IN!

WASHINGTON.—(By NEA Service)—Discussion of independence for India will be injected into the limitation of armament conference if a certain group of senators has its way. After the conference starts a resolution will be introduced into the Senate declaring that no settlement of Far Eastern affairs can be conclusive unless the fate of India is taken into consideration.

Representatives of the American Commission to Promote Self Government in India already have gained the consent of friendly senators to introduce such a resolution.

This is the first instance of attempted congressional meddling in affairs of the conference. Administration advisers pointed out the danger in having Congress in session during the conference but the administration decided not to urge an adjournment on account of the need for important legislation.

that the main interests of mankind cannot but profit by their close and intimate cooperation.

"If, as prime minister, of the French republic, I did not hesitate, in spite of present difficulties, to leave my country, it was first because I wanted to bring over here the tribute of her gratitude and at the same time show that the foremost thought of every Frenchman is peace. We know too well, alas, what war means and the toll it takes, not to yearn for peace with heart and soul. As soon as President Harding sent out his noble call for my country answered 'present' and here I am to demonstrate the earnest good will of France by every means in my power."

"I earnestly trust that the Washington meeting will give us an opportunity in this respect. France and America yesterday united on the battlefield, will thus continue to play their beneficent part, in depriving from their common victory such results as will conform with the ideal that has ever animated them."

PORTUGAL OFFERS ASYLUM FOR EXILED EMPEROR

BUDAPEST.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his wife were believed today to have passed into the Black sea, on their way to the Bosphorus.

With the former king-emperor being carried to the island in the Atlantic ocean, 440 miles from the Moroccan coast, after his latest spectacular attempt to regain his lost empire, the national assembly at a special session yesterday enacted into law a bill deposing him and ousting the entire Hapsburg dynasty.

Permission has been given by the Portuguese government for the deportation of Charles and his family to Madeira. They will probably reside at Funchal.

RAINBOWS TO TAKE PART IN HONORING WAR HERO

WASHINGTON.—Many former members of the Forty-second or Rainbow division, are making their plans to reach Washington in time to pay their final respects to America's unknown soldier, J. Bentley Mulford, first vice president of the Rainbow division veterans, said today. Members of the division will hold a brief service during the time that the body lies in state in the capitol, and will have a designated place in the funeral procession from the capitol to Arlington.

WAR CRAFTERS TO GO FREE

Time Limit for Prosecutions Has Expired

By HARRY HUNT

WASHINGTON.—(Staff Special)—War-time profiteers, crooks and sharpers who defrauded the government of millions of dollars in connection with war construction and supplies, unless they already have been indicted or convicted, will face no prosecution.

They are free from any criminal action as the they had been tried and acquitted.

They may later find themselves defendants in suits brought by the government to recover money paid on fraudulent deals or illegal contracts, but these can be only civil suits which will put no one behind prison bars.

Expiration of the three-year limit, within which any criminal action, not capital, must be instituted, has shut the door to prosecution.

Expect, perhaps, in a few scattering cases in which frauds against the government were committed in adjusting war contracts following the signing of the armistice, the government, by inaction, has forfeited its right to prosecute and punish.

The Department of Justice will not give out any estimate as to the number of cases in which immunity is bestowed because of the inactivity of that department in beginning prosecution.

Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, has been placed in charge of prosecutions and litigation growing out of our war activities.

The special committee of Congress which investigated war expenditures reported almost 20 months ago that "in the judgment of the committee enough irregularities and fraudulent practices have been uncovered" to warrant prompt and rigorous prosecution in scores of cases.

In the construction of army camps alone the committee declared there had been a leakage of approximately $80,000,000.

Many expenditures, the report declares, "were obviously tainted with fraud."

LITTLE INTEREST ON BATTLE EVE

Politicians at Sea on Fight For Commissioner

FEW BETS ARE BEING MADE

All is Set for Ballot Shower in City, County

Lima voters will elect a commission to replace the old Mayor-Council form of government, Tuesday, Monday, the last day prior to the big derby in which ten men who survived the primary are entered, marked activity was shown.

A much heavier vote than previously estimated will be polled, according to political seers, who have had their ears to the ground and claim to know what's what.

Politicians of the old parties are reluctant to make predictions as to who will be the winners.

Politicians is eliminated in the commissioners race, they state; never-the-less they have personal preferences.

NO PREDICTIONS MADE
Lehr Miller, former county treasurer and Democratic leader, would not state who he believes the winning candidates will be.

Leading members of the G. O. P. were equally as modest, apparently.

No additional registrations were made by the start of elections Saturday, although the office was open for the purpose for one hour. Monday the bond was in session from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. to register any persons who appeared.

Speculation on the curb as to the winning commissioner combination was rife Monday.

Harley, Crossley, Breckenridge, Cunningham, Rankin and Jones appear to be the favorites.

FEW BETS OFFERED
Money offered that the first three will win found few takers. B. H. Simpson was played as a long shot to nose thru among the first five.

Blank is another long shot.

The polls will be open at 5:30 a. m. and will close at the same hour in the afternoon.

J. M. Madigan, chairman of the board of elections, predicted that the vote for commissioner will be pretty well counted by 10 p. m.

Leaders of the American Legion announced Monday that every effort will be made to get the former service men, their friends and relatives to the polls to vote for the compensation amendment.

OHIO BOY KILLS HIMSELF WHILE LOADING REVOLVER

CANTON.—Fearing teachers, Darrel Card, 16, a high school student, secured a revolver from his father before retiring last night. While in the act of loading it, the gun was discharged and a bullet entered his right temple, killing him. Only three cartridges had been placed in the gun.

FOR CITY COMMISSIONERS

I. J. Rankin

Harold Cunningham

Minor C. Crossley

Five Reasons Why These Men Should Be Elected City Commissioners of Lima:

FIRST—Because they believe—The law lays an equal obligation on Labor and Employer.

SECOND—Because—They are men who have won their spurs as successful business men.

THIRD—Because they believe—Along with Lincoln that "God Loves the Common People," because He made so many of them and that the development of the higher attributes in man means the salvation of our City.

FOURTH—Because they believe—Let the safety and welfare of the public be the supreme law.

FIFTH—Because—Their training has been along financial lines and they are well able to grasp the great affairs of a tremendous corporation like the City of Lima.

LOCAL ARTISTS AID IN CHARITY BODY CONCERT

UNDAY evening the auditorium of St. Rose church was filled to overflowing by a most appreciative and enthusiastic audience which thoroughly enjoyed a concert given at a benefit under the auspices of the St. Rose Charity Council.

The program opened with an address by the Rt. Rev. A. E. Manning. Misses Lucile Curren, Catherine Shanahan, Bernadette Blannard and Mary Agnes Murphy then followed with a lovely number, Chopin's "Polonaise Militaire," "Dainty Boy," by Fred Weatherly and "In An Old Fashioned Town" by H. Squire were two numbers sung in a most pleasing manner by Mrs. Mary Wilcox Flager. Miss Anna Cantwell was accompanist. J. J. Malloy gave a humorous number, which was enthusiastically received by the audience. This number was followed by a reading, which received by Miss Esther Damaris Toy. Miss Leona Feltz was cleverly presented by Miss Esther Damaris Toy. Miss Leona Feltz gave two piano numbers, "To the Rising Sun," by Torjussen and "Country Garden" by Percy Grainger, which she played in a very skillful manner. Dudley Buck's "Creole's Love Song" was beautifully sung by L. H. Wessel. Miss Cantwell presided at the piano.

"Andante" (from B Minor Concerto) by Gouterman was well played by Mrs. Andrew Diamond, talented cellist. She was accompanied by Miss Leona Feltz at the piano. The exquisite voice of Mrs. Ralph Austin was well expressed in two selections, "The Swallows," by Eva Delacqua and "The Lass with the Delicate Air," by Thomas A. Arne. Very enjoyable was the dialogue, "Backward Child," interpreted by Miss Toy as the child and Miss Fox, of Ohio Northern University, as the governess. The concluding number was a beautiful one, given by the Woman's Music Quartette including Mrs. C. S. Daxler, Mrs. John Carney, Mrs. Charles A. Black and Mrs. Foster Robinson. Miss Cantwell played the accompaniment.

The program for the evening was arranged by Miss Nellie O'Connor and Miss Anna Cantwell. Miss Elizabeth Hannon is president of the Charity Council, while Miss Mary Callahan is secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eastman, of the Early-rd., were tendered a pleasant surprise Saturday evening when a large group of neighbors and friends gathered at their home in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eastman. The evening was enjoyed socially and later a delicious lunch was served. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Herald and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Roush and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Dedrick, and daughter, Colina, Mr. and Mrs. Zurnchly and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Richards and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. McCarey, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Rothburn and family, Mrs. Isaac Roush, Mrs. Clara Spurnagle, Misses Florence Fisher and Lena Lissach, Mrs. Katherine East and daughter, Lena, and Christine, Messrs. Harold Cole, R. Conway, R. Jennings, A. Golden, H. Roush, J. M. Hodgekier, M. B. Hodgekier and Mr. and Mrs. Eastman.

A group of women from this city will leave Tuesday for Dayton where they will attend the West Ohio conference of the Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal churches. Wednesday and Thursday at the Grace M. E. church in that city.

Those leaving for Lima are Mrs. Beecher Moke, a member of the conference perpetual membership committee; Mrs. Frank Boone, conference supply secretary and Mr. Fred Lisantz, Mrs. R. J. Platte and Mrs. L. C. Rinkley, representatives of Lima district.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kelfer, of Holmes-ave., were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when a group of friends gathered at their home in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. A dainty lunch was served at the conclusion of the evening of music and dancing.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. King, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Corbett, Joseph Weaver, Rubin Kelfer, Cyril Kelfer, Misses Clara and Mary Kelfer and Mr. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roberts, of Dayton and Mr. H. F. Richey and son Charles of Detroit, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sullivan, of Nye-st.

Mrs. Frank E. Strouse returned to her home in Terro Haute, Ind., Sunday after visiting with her sister, Mrs. Daniel D. Jones, of the Holland-apolis.

Mrs. Oliver Sullivan, of Nye-st., is entertaining as her guest, her mother, Mrs. J. S. Springer, of Dayton.

Meeting of St. Martha's Guild of Christ Episcopal church, which was to have been held with Mrs. Ralph Lee, of Lincoln-ave., Tuesday, has been postponed until a week from Tuesday.

Child's Conservation League will meet with Mrs. J. M. Galloway Thursday afternoon.

Friday afternoon Bridge club will meet with Mrs. A. L. White, of W. Market-st., Friday.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

By WINONA WILCOX

VIRTUE THE REWARD

The idea of a life need not fade out—if human beings would be about 50 per cent of what they pretend to be. Apropos of the kissing problem, a husband tells of his sad disillusionment. It's "the other side."

"Because she would not let me kiss her, I fell in love and proposed to the girl I married. She told me she knew how to value herself. And so I knew she was the wonder-woman!"

"Today, my small son tells me, in imitation of his mother: 'I do not remember that once I had my own way since I married her. She is so jealous that I dare not smile when I take off my hat to a neighbor on the street. She has quarreled with all my relatives.'"

"She gets my breakfast only on Sundays when the whole family is late."

"We have no savings account, and never will have. She spends all I make and cares for me most on paydays."

"She would have me think that just because she is young and pretty and virtuous, there is nothing I can do to pay her sufficiently for the privilege of just being her husband!"

"I was always a dreamer. I used to think I would adore forever the woman who married me. I am sure a man has a right to demand virtue in the mother of his children. My wife's attitude toward men is above reproach and always has been. But she never pays any attention to my plea to teach our boy to tell the truth. She says I've no right to find fault, if she dirts as some of her friends do, I might object to her little defects."

In short, virtue is the only reward to be exacted from it, according to the theory of the pretty wife whose husband complains so bitterly.

The ideas of the psychologists might help her. They say that lying often results from fear. The whipped child forms the lying habit.

Lying may be overcome, but in the adult, the first step to reform is by way of a confession or acknowledgment of error.

To reform a fault in character, one first must admit that the flaw exists.

It is not a disgrace to have our limitations; but only a disgrace to continue to harbor them.

"I wonder why I did that?" we ask ourselves when we have been humiliated or embarrassed by some impulsive word or action.

Our subconscious mind shaped our behavior; we cannot help ourselves, explain psychologists.

But we can with patience re-educate ourselves. The wife who she can re-educate herself along lines of strict truthfulness, but not against her will, not unless she desires to do so.

NEW YORK — A Spanish comb doesn't necessarily make a Spanish costume, yet the green crepe cashmere trimmed in black and white fringe has a decidedly Spanish flavor.

Paul Poiret has draped a novel waist effect, the sleeves being merely pieces of goods caught in such a manner as to fall in a cape-like effect in the skirt is richly embroidered in points, from which the fringe falls.

This novel costume, while it suggests the stage, is really a dinner gown, although its use extends to reception or afternoon functions.

SUSIE SMART SAYS

Dear Miss Smart: I want with a boy for awhile. One when I was with him he took my ring. I would it be proper for me to ask him for it, as I don't go with him anymore. MISS K. T.

Perhaps, if the opportunity presents itself, you might ask this boy to return your ring. However, it seems that he should be courteous and polite enough to return it, then you apparently are no longer friends.

A HUSBAND
I AM quite certain that you know and understand your wife much better than I and that you should be able to know how to "deal" with her. Before taking any steps toward "reformation," be sure you know, without doubt, whenever she really and honestly is unreasonable. Quite frequently husbands are so reasonable and perfect (according to themselves) that if any little dissensions arise all blame is placed on the poor wives.

Of course, it is true that in most households the respective duties of husband and wife are usually clearly defined and divided, the wife supporting the home while the husband manages and attends to the household. Some women find nothing more aggravating than to have their husbands fussing around the home while others are very thankful when their husbands are thoughtful and considerate enough to offer their assistance. It is a splendid thing when either husband or wife is willing and anxious to assist the other in any way possible when it occasion arises.

The fact that your wife continually complains of being tired indicates that the household may be to great a tax on her strength. In the case you should either hire some of the work done or should be willing to help her in any way you can.

Knowing. It took him barely half an hour to open Barry's safe and abstract a bundle of memoranda.

But when Tinker Dale relocked the safe, he did not hear that the little machine which he had inadvertently moved had commenced ticking.

When Tinker Dale left the factory he very thoughtfully refrained from waking the nightwatchman.

Saturday, Gelder was dictating letters when Brahms entered hurriedly.

"News has just come thru that there's been a big explosion down in Essex. Explosive factory blown up."

"Much damage?"

"I can't get any details."

"But they say it's been a mighty big bang. Ferrier can get off at once."

Brahms disappeared. Topical work was a part of the Goliath Film company.

"What about running down with me in the car to see what's happened at this explosion, Miss Kelson?"

"An operator has gone down. That's part of our work you haven't seen yet."

The reference to the work decided Margaret.

"I shall come with pleasure," she said.

Half an hour later she went into Gelder's room with the letters and found him waiting.

"Heard your car," he said, "it may be cold driving," he said, "the car will be around in a minute."

On their way they met the Goliath operator driving back from the scene of the explosion.

The two cars stopped.

"Got your picture?"

"Yes. Big explosion."

"How did it happen?"

But the operator did not know, and Gelder drove on.

As they neared the factory the road became filled with people, a squad of constables, a fire engine.

They came to the offices around which the crowd was densest. Two men apart were John Quintus and Ewart Barry. Both were grave.

"My mind is perfectly clear as to what I did," Barry was saying. "I put the machine in the safe, I am absolutely certain that I stopped it."

"There's no way of telling now, whether the safe has been tampered with or not. It is blown to smithereens. Besides, there was nothing in the safe of any value to anybody save ourselves. Do you think that anything might have gone wrong with the machine?"

"I can't believe it. I tested it again and again."

"Who comes in to clean up at night?"

"I don't know. A man—the watchman engaged him. Wait! I've seen a man around here—a man who used to be at Delmar's, a bad character. The watchman told me he was after a job. I wonder if he was taken on."

"What was his name?"

"They called him Tinker Dale."

"We'll see," John Quintus led the way into the windowless office, and examined the pay roll.

"The cleaner's name is not Dale," he said. "But he might have called himself anything. What do you think this man would be after down here?"

"I can't think, unless—"

Ewart Barry broke off.

"Unless what?" John Quintus spoke sharply.

"Unless he is one of the conspirators that stole my Pye Process from me. They will stop at nothing."

"For what purpose would they cause this explosion?"

"I can think of none, unless," Ewart Barry laughed, hysterically, "they hoped to blow me up, too."

"Why don't you tell me whom you suspect? In confidence, of course," asked John Quintus.

As Ewart Barry hesitated his eyes wandered across the expanse of debris. He saw Margaret Kelson and with her the man whom he had seen that other morning with Richard Delmar and Philip Tyson.

He stretched out a trembling and accusing hand.

"There are two of them!" he exclaimed, loudly. "In that car, there! That is the girl who sold me to Delmar's. Ask her, if you like. Ask her! Ask her!"

Margaret Kelson had risen in the car when she saw Ewart Barry and heard his words of denunciation. She clambered out and ran, stumbling, over the debris and up to Barry. She cried:

"It's not true! You know that it is not true!"

"I suppose," Barry sneered, "that you have come here to inspect the most recent of your enterprises."

"What has come over you?" she asked, puzzled.

Barry turned to his employer. "You asked me to tell you who it is that has been working against me. One is here—this girl—Miss Kelson. She was at Delmar's. She typed out the details of my process. I was foretold by the New Dye Company. She is now with the New Dye Company."

He spoke wildly, incoherently. "Easy, there," interposed Gelder. "Who are you, anyhow?"

"You'll know one day," cried Barry. "You and Tyson and Delmar and the rest of you."

"You are wrong, Ewart," Margaret said quietly, "and one day you will find out how wrong you are."

She turned wearily to Gelder. "Please let us go back," and Gelder helped her to the car. Quintus said to Barry, "That when you wish to quarrel, you will be good enough not to quarrel in my presence."

"If only you understood!" Barry cried. "I'd give anything in the world—to believe that Margaret is not against me. Once it was the dearest name of all to me. And now—"

He broke off. "I'm sorry," he added, "my private affairs cannot possibly interest you. I will go back to work again if—it you can trust me?"

John Quintus looked at him steadily. "Most of us act like fools at times," he said drily. "There are those who act like fools all the time. Of no use to anybody. Carry on!"

And John Quintus strode away.

Charles Gelder tucked Margaret in the motor car. They had been driving half an hour when she spoke: "I'm sorry. I'm very, very sorry. You have a right to understand," she went on. "Do you remember the day when Mr. Delmar came into the office and told you about—about things that had happened in connection with Mr. Barry—the man I spoke to at that factory. And, you see—"

"I reckon all this is no business of mine," Gelder interrupted, "and I prefer to stick to my own business. Miss Kelson, I don't know how to tell you what I want to say."

Under the rug Margaret's hands clenched fiercely. After this scene he wanted to get rid of her.

"You see," he uttered a nervous laugh, "I want you to marry me. I love you, Miss Kelson."

Dear Pony Man—I am highly pleased with the pony which came today. I named him Prince. Every body in my neighborhood for blocks around came to see me and Prince. I thank you for sending the pony so promptly. Your respectful friend, ALBERT CLAY LATT.

Corns Ended by a Touch

Pain Stopped Instantly—Corns Removed Quickly and Gently

THIS is the scientific way, the modern way to end corns. A famous expert evolved it. A world-famed laboratory produces and guarantees it.

With millions it has displaced old methods, harsh and crude.

It is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. Either is applied by a touch. The pain stops at once, and soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

Thus any corn, old or new, can be ended at your will. No joyful hour need ever be spent in this way.

Prove this tonight. Get Blue-jay at the drug store. Bid all corns a lasting farewell.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do any work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

IOWA CAPTAIN, FANS' IDOL, WORKS HIS WAY THRU SCHOOL WHILE LEADING COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM

AMES, Ia.—An "Iowa lad" from Oklahoma has been getting the big share of credit for the mid-west in football the last two years. This comes from the fact that he is not only an outstanding football player, but that he is an all-around college man, a student, a leader in campus activities, and above all a man who is well liked by his team mates because he is a clean, hard fighter.

"Polly" Wallace, who took Missouri Valley conference honors last fall as a center, then made Eckersall's All-Western mythical eleven as a center, and to cap the list was placed on Eckersall's All-American eleven in the same capacity, is captain of the Iowa State football team this fall, at Ames, Iowa. His playing early this season was a wonder to spectators of the games in which he participated.

Wallace has been termed a "roving" center. He has been described as having an uncanny sense of seeing where a play was going, and being there to stop it.

To show the strength of Wallace's ability to put fight into the Cyclones, it can be pointed out that his team has lost the last three games in the valley race because, it may be safely said, Wallace was not in that game enough to carry his team thru for a victory and to hold them until the game was over.

Wallace carries the heavy schedule of an upperclassman and has never failed in a course he has undertaken. His work is on a par with most students who carry no outside activity, while he not only competes in athletics thruout the year, but is making his way thru college in addition. Selling programs, managing the sale of sweets and popcorn at athletic contests, and arranging for the sale of team pictures furnish Wallace with his expense money for four years of college training.

He wants to be a "dirt farmer" when thru college. He spends his summer months on a claim in Colorado, "proving up" the required time for the government, and chopping trees to build up a strong physique.

A popular student with classmates, a college man who studies when study is needed, a man who looks forward to an application of his college training, and about a man who commands the respect and admiration of all his friends thru his quiet, open-hearted manner when off the football field or mat, but who can put a "punch" into his classmates that wins games for his school—that is the 178 pounds of manhood known nation-wide as "Polly."

ED SCHLATTER LAYS CLAIM TO DON BAXTER
PERRY THREATENS
LEGAL ACTION
IN SQUABBLE

Who is Don Baxter's manager? That question is disputed. And it is not at all unlikely that it will not be settled until taken to the courts.

Ed Schlatter, proprietor of St. Elmas bar, says that he is now managing the Lima pug and that Walt Perry has nothing more to do with Baxter.

But Perry says that is wrong. He states emphatically that he is managing Don Baxter and that unless Schlatter hunts the shade he will bring about legal force.

It is a well known fact that Perry has had a five year contract with Baxter. Perry insists that this document is still good and that any attempt on the part of Schlatter or Baxter will result in drastic action which, he says, is liable to result in Baxter being disqualified by boxing commissions all over the country.

ED SAYS IT'S "BUNK"

Schlatter says it's all "bunk."

"I have Baxter now and he is training in my gymnasium with the rest of my stable of eight fighters. At present I am looking him for an eastern trip and before I get done with him much will be heard from Baxter in the big classics," he said.

PERRY HAS NOTHING MORE TO DO WITH HIM

"Perry has nothing more to do with him. Let him do what he pleases. He can't hurt us," Schlatter stated.

Don Baxter could not be reached for a statement up until press time, but Perry insists that he is friendly with him and that news of Schlatter's action was wholly unexpected.

Cross Country
Run Scheduled
November 11

One of the special features in connection with the celebration of Armistice Day in Lima will be a cross-country run between teams representing the Big 11 Athletic Association and the Pirates Athletic Club.

The contestants have been training hard for the past week and when the deciding day arrives some lively competition should be expected; in fact, it is a safe bet that a close finish is inevitable.

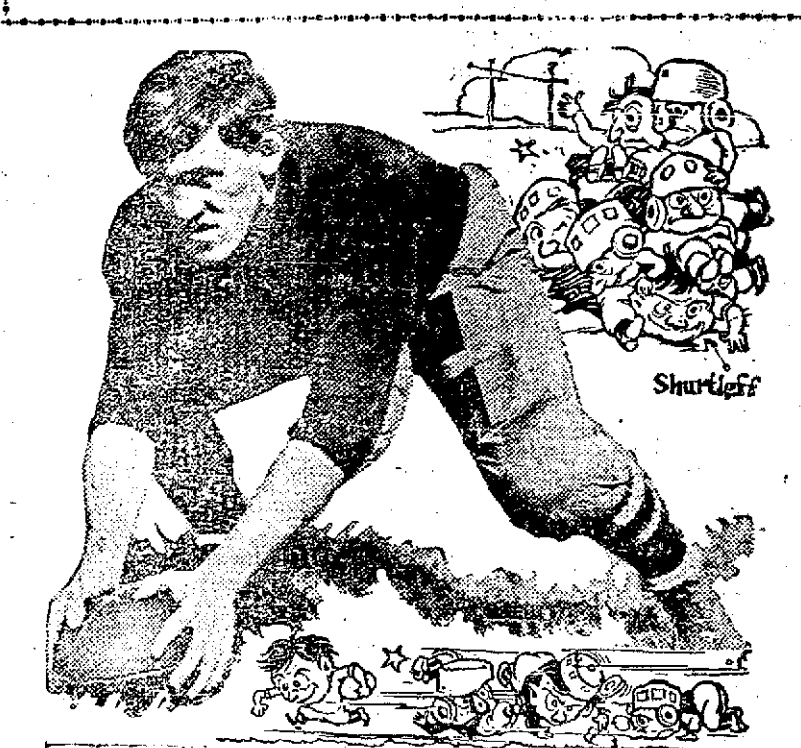

At first the Pirates were a little backward about entering as competitors, but after some persuasion it is thought that they will race. They say they can present a formidable team and that whoever buckles up against them must step mighty lively.

Each team will be composed of four men. The course will start from the Public Square, west to the College Field, then to the next registration booth which will be at the State Hospital. The finish will be at the Murphy-st hall park.

As yet no officials have been chosen but they will be in the near future. Also the exact length of the course is not known. It is judged to be about three and one-half miles.

"Scrappy" Shurtliff, Brown's Center.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Never wearing a head gear and with the sleeves of his jersey at his elbows, Fred Shurtliff, Brown's scrappy center and one of the leading center men of the east, always presents a spectacle on the gridiron.

For four years Shurtliff has not missed a minute from a game thru injuries and Coach E. N. Robinson says that he well deserves the name of "Scrappy." Always in the thick of the fray and usually at the bottom of the heap when there is one, Shurtliff can be found.

As a snapper back, he has not made a bad pass in two seasons and when it comes to defensive playing, Coach Robinson has him backing up the line just as Glenn Warner has the mighty Herb Stein backing up the Panther line.

And Shurtliff does his work in grand style, for he is not afraid to

Jack M'Auliffe To Invade Europe
In Search of New Lot of Fighters

NEW YORK — On a mission to restore the fighting prestige of the Irish, Jack M'Auliffe, the old lightweight king, is about to sail for the British Isles.

"I'm coming back with a heavyweight champion," the undefeated one said today.

"I'm going over to England and Ireland for a good lightweight and a promising heavyweight. I've been tipped off to several good prospects and I believe I can bring a couple of good ones back."

Concerning the story that he was going to turn over the old Fox lightweight championship belt to the present 135 pounder, M'Auliffe says: "There ain't no such thing."

HE HOOKED BELT
"The day after I won the Fox belt, I hooked it for $250 and when I retired I gave Kid Lavigne the pawn ticket for the belt," he said.

The belt finally came back into Fox's possession and he had it fixed over and gave it to Terry McGovern. Sam Harris has the belt now and it's being shown as a feature exhibition at one of his shows—"The Champion."

M'Auliffe says he owns three other belts and that they are "still around some place."

Speaking of the proposed Dempsey-Willard heavyweight championship, the former champion says: "Willard will be like a hopped horse against a thoroughbred. He hasn't a chance and the fight shouldn't be staged."

BIG LEAGUE STARS
THRILL CROWD OF
2,500 FANS

A chill wind Sunday afternoon failed to dampen the spirits of 2,500 baseball fans who turned out to see the Wapakoneta baseball club worsted in the inter-county championship series by Lima.

Lefty Houtz's batsmen were allowed 11 hits, but only scored two runs, while Bernie Halloran's sluggers brought in seven counters.

All the major league stars slated to play Sunday were on hand when the game started. Wilbur Cooper pitched three innings for Lima and then turned the game over to "Big Bill" Morsette who started a little wild but tightened up before the Anglake-co boys had time to recover from Cooper's hot ones.

George Uhle, of the Cleveland Indians, pitched a good game for Wapak and only allowed the locals 14 hits. Seve O'Neill worked behind the bat, with Wamby on second and Grancy in the sun position.

Elmer Smith, home run hero of the 1920 world series, was credited with only one hit, but swung viciously at the ball, even if his old team-mate was in the box.

In the sixth inning it appeared for a time that Wapak would even the score with Lima. The bases were full with two outs. O'Neill was at bat. Two strikes were called, but he was out to Southworth unassisted.

The number of fans from Wapak was estimated below the 150 mark.

Oscar Langhorst, manager of the Reds, came to Lima over a week prior to the game and demanded that Halloran let him have 200 reserved seats to sell in Wapak. Seventy-five of these were returned, Frank Callahan, business manager, stated.

Both Halloran and Callahan expressed their gratefulness to Lima fans in turning out the way they did, despite the fact that the home team went into the hole for $535 and the Sunday previous lost $225 when rain halted the game.

"ALF'S BUTTON" IS ENGLISH COMIC WITH A PLOT

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
A SUBTLE exposition of the British sense of humor is given in "Alf's Button," a film which is the best from the standpoint of story interest and even of plot, yet made by English producers.

A British Tommy is surprised by the appearance of a genie ready to do his bidding when he rubs the second button on his tunic. The button has been cast from the mental of Aladdin's lamp. "Strike me plink!" the cockney soldier exclaimed when he regained his breath. "The genie forthwith accommodated him, and then disappeared."

Alf wished to see his girl. He longed for the most beautiful girl in England. The genie brought the captain's fiancée and matters thereupon became quite complicated. And so on.

Such a story offers a tremendous field for the play of the author's imagination. The English producer employed it for seven reels.

Many of the scenes in "Alf's Button" demonstrate that English technique in photography and direction has not advanced much beyond the nickelodeon era in America. However, it is said to be a better comic than the ordinary run of American comedies.

IF AMERICANS MADE IT
One wonders what an American comedian would have produced from the same story. Chaplin would have made a greater picture than "The Kid," no doubt. Buster Keaton or Harold Lloyd might possibly have made a two or three reeler, with all the action the seven reel English comic retained.

Therein lies the distinction between English and American wit. The American comedian makes you laugh uproariously, and then before you have time to rest, your mirth is stirred again. The English comedian lays a trail to his joke, like a long fuse to a powder can. After that explosion of humor he laboriously contrives another situation to provoke merriment.

And there you are!

"Strike me plink!" exclaimed a British Tommy when a genie appeared after he had rubbed a button his blouse. The genie did for he was the reincarnation of Aladdin's slave. This is a First National film.

something new. He has taken out a $25,000 insurance policy to guarantee a snowfall for "The Two Orphans" before Nov. 20.

Milton Sills and Florence Vidor are featured in "Skin Deep," a Thomas H. Ince picture.

Prince Ferdinando Pignatelli of Italy acted as cameraman for one scene of Marshall Neilan's production of "Penrod."

Eva Novak plays opposite Tom Mix in "Around the World in Nothing Flat." Some speed!

Frank Alexander, who appears in Larry Semon comedies, is the heaviest man in the movies. Weighs 350.

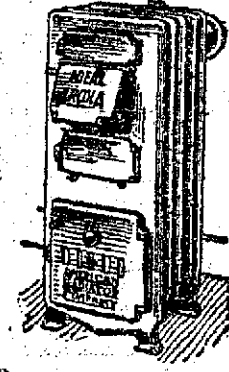

Billy Elmer, who supports Pauline Frederick in "Judith of Blue Lake Ranch" was formerly a prizefighter.

Constance Talmadge has gone to California to make her next two pictures. Norma will follow in a few weeks and the Talmadge studio in New York will be vacant for several months.

For the way that brings prettier teeth

Do as millions have done—make this ten-day test. See how film removal beautifies the teeth. Learn how it makes safer teeth. Brush your teeth in the modern way and watch all the good effects.

Film makes teeth dingy

That viscous film you feel is the teeth's chief enemy. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old brushing methods did not effectively combat it. So very few people have escaped discoloration and decay.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germis breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Two ways to fight it

Dental science has now found two effective ways to fight film. They are combined in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent—made to meet modern requirements.

Pepsodent PAT OFF
REG. U.S.
The New-Day Dentifrice

The scientific film combater, approved by modern authorities and now advised by leading dentists everywhere—to bring five desired effects. All druggists supply the large tubes.

Each use of Pepsodent brings five effects which dentists now desire. It attacks the film. It keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

It increases the salivary flow, which is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That to digest the starch deposits which otherwise may form acid. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Thus Pepsodent is bringing to millions whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. Leading dentists everywhere are now urging its adoption.

Results are delightful

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film coats disappear.

All the effects are delightful. All are now considered essential. See and feel them for awhile. Read the reasons for them in the book we send. Then decide for you and yours between the old ways and the new. Cut out the coupon now.

Cincinnati Man is Now in Tip Top Shape

"I hadn't finished the first bottle of Tonic before I was convinced that I had made the medicine I had been needing for five years," said Edward Busan, 17 Tower St., East Clifton, Cincinnati, O.

"Every dose seemed to bring me new strength and energy and my improvement kept up until I am in tip-top shape. When I started taking Tonic I was almost 'all in' and troubled with both my stomach and liver."

"I'm eating anything I want these days and my skin instead of being sallow as it used to be is now clear and natural looking. Tonic just set me right in every way."

Tonic is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store, and by all leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

BATTLE ON GRAIN LAW OPENS

Argument in Suit to Test the Act is Begun

CLAIMED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Case May be Carried to U. S. Supreme Court

CHICAGO. (By Associated Press.)—Regulation of grain exchanges as provided in the Capper-Phelan law going into effect December 4, is attacked here in a suit, to test for argument before Judge K. M. Landis today.

The bill questioning the constitutionality of the future trading was filed by John Hill Jr., a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, on October 25, and it is the first suit to test the law.

"It is claimed that the act is in violation of the constitution of the United States," said Mr. Hill, "and it will be taken to the U. S. Supreme court with the least possible delay."

Reviewing his argument against the act, Mr. Hill said it would follow these lines:

"That the future trading act deprives the members of the board of trade of their property without due process of law, in that the compulsory admission to membership on the part of representatives of cooperative associations will impair the value of all memberships on the board."

"That it attempts to regulate commerce of a purely intrastate character between persons within the state of Illinois, whereas Congress has no right to interfere with, or regulate business that is not interstate in character."

"That it interferes with the right of the State of Illinois to provide for and regulate the maintenance of a grain exchange within its borders upon which is conducted the making of contracts which are merely intrastate transactions."

"That it gives to farmers' cooperative associations the right to share in and enjoy the use of real estate owned by the board (a private corporation) without giving the board any compensation therefor and that it attempts to take the private property of the board for public use without giving any compensation therefor to the owners."

MUTT AND JEFF—NO USE TALKING, MUTT'S A HARD BOILED EGG

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Charles Deardourff, in charge of the presentation of the wonder picture, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," at the Sigma Theatre last week, found his hat too tight one day.

He guessed it had shrunk. When he looked again he found it wasn't his own, but a perfectly strange hat. He says: "I guess I chased the wrong hat when mine blew off in a gust of wind."

Clayt Payne, Kiwanis hustler and business man, was prevented with a rabbit's foot, to bring him luck in a bowling contest.

"The foot didn't bring me luck," Clayt said. "It gave me an awful kick, instead I lost."

C. C. Schuey, Warhonda visitor, here Sunday to attend the ball game, feeling the need of leg exercise, biked into Elizabeth-st., off High-st. and started north for Murphy-st. "Before I reached the Penna. Lines tracks," Schuey said, "I was offered a ride by a passing motorist. Two other offers of a similar character came before I reached Murphy-st. I turned all of them down. But just west of Main-st. on Murphy-st. I was pressed so hard to ride the remainder of the way to the ball park, that I gave up."

"But returning from the park, again preferring to walk, several autos passed and I'll bet the drivers never saw me."

Mayor Ben L. Jauman, a visitor in Lima, relates an incident that occurred in a Main-st. confectionery.

A girl made a loud protest that the spoon with which she was eating pineapple soda had been used before for strawberry. She could see the pink came off her lips.

Why Can't You, Too, Be Well and Strong?

FEW of us realize how precious good health is until we begin to lose it. To be well is to enjoy life and make good times for those around us. To be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures and to look with envy upon our robust friends and neighbors.

Are you one of the unfortunates?

Is your health slowly slipping away? It's time, then, you looked to your kidneys!

Much sickness of today is traceable to kidney weakness. Its increase is alarming. That's because it's usually unseen or neglected.

But it's easy to tell if your kidneys are weak. You may have only backache; a lameness, stiffness, or sharp stabbing pains; dizzy spells, headaches, or annoying bladder irregularities.

If you have these symptoms, suspect your kidneys! Remember that delay may result in serious kidney sickness.

But why dwell on the dark picture? Rather think of the brighter side!

To remedy such a weakness is to add years to your life and to regain the health and strength that enables you to enter life's daily battle with joy and enthusiasm.

If you've reason to suspect your kidneys, read the stories of these Lima people. They tell how they have won back good health through Doan's Kidney Pills, the world's best-recommended kidney remedy. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's" Say These Lima Folks:

J. N. WILLIAMS, 726 Atlantic Ave., says: "My kidneys were a source of annoyance. I had lame back and a heavy, dull ache across my back that unfitted me for work. My kidneys didn't act right and I knew they caused the trouble, so when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured some. They helped me from the first, and I was soon free from all signs of the trouble."

MRS. CAROLINE DANKERT, 1128 Forest Ave., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had a dull, miserable ache in my back that sapped my strength and energy. The soreness across my kidneys made it hard to stoop or straighten and the action of my kidneys was irregular. I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills at Every-body's Drug Store, and they soon relieved the backache and regulated my kidneys. I know Doan's will do what is claimed for them."
